FOREWORD

THE USUAL COMPLAINT ABOUT ANNUALS IS THAT THEY ARE ALL THE SAME. THIS YEAR'S STAFF HAS MADE A CONCERTED EFFORT TO REMEDY THIS DEFECT AND AS A RESULT THE 1940 SOUTHERN CAMPUS DIFFERS IN SEVERAL RESPECTS FROM ITS PREDECESSORS. NO EFFORT HAS BEEN MADE TO INCORPORATE A THEME INTO ITS MAKEUP—THE THEME IS THE UNIVERSITY YEAR 1939.1940. ON THE OTHER HAND, NO EFFORT HAS BEEN SPARED TO COVER AS FULLY AS IS PRACTICABLE ALL UNIVERSITY EVENTS AND TO GIVE AS MANY INDIVIDUALS REPRESENTATION ON ITS PAGES AS POSSIBLE. THE ADDITION OF SEVERAL NEW SECTIONS HAS AIDED THESE EFFORTS. A CHRONOLOGICAL LIST OF IMPORTANT EVENTS, WHICH GIVES A SHORT BUT COMPLETE HISTORY OF THE YEAR, HAS BEEN INCLUDED IN THE ADVERTISING SECTION. IT IS OUR HOPE THAT THIS VOLUME MEETS FULLY THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS FOR A PICTORIAL RECORD OF THE YEAR'S ACHIEVEMENTS, AND THAT IT WILL BE REFERRED TO WHENEVER INFORMATION ABOUT THE YEAR IT MIRRORS IS DESIRED

DEDICATION

DEAN VERN O. KNUDSEN

IN OUR DYNAMIC WORLD, THE MAN OF SCIENCE OCCUPIES A POSITION OF DISTINCTION. MANKIND LOOKS TO HIM FOR THE SOLUTION OF ITS PROBLEMS WHEN THESE REQUIRE CLEAR, CALM REASONING. TOO OFTEN, HOWEVER, WE FIND THAT THE SCIENTIST LOSES HIS PERSPECTIVE AND BECOMES A MACHINE INSTEAD OF A HUMAN BEING. IT IS TO A MAN WHO HAS AVOIDED THIS PITFALL AND HAS SUCCESSFULLY COUPLED SCIENTIFIC GENIUS WITH RARE UNDERSTANDING, WHO HAS CHOSEN AS AN EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITY THE BUILDING OF A RANKING GRADUATE SCHOOL, AND WHO HAS NOT FORGOTTEN HOW TO BE A TEACHER, THAT WE RESPECTFULLY DEDICATE THIS, VOLUME XXI, OF THE SOUTHERN CAMPUS.

THE SECTION OF THIS ANNUAL DEVOTED TO THE PICTURIZATION OF THE CHARM AND SERENITY OF THE WESTWOOD CAMPUS WOULD BE INCOMPLETE IF MENTION WERE NOT MADE OF THE OTHER MAJOR UNIT OF THE UNIVERSITY. LARGEST AND MOST VENERABLE OF THE SEVEN CAMPUSES, CALIFORNIA AT BERKELEY IS HONORED AS AN ILLUSTRIOUS PARENT WHOSE PRECOCIOUS OFFSPRING IS MORE AND MORE ASSERTING ITS INDEPENDENCE. THE BUILDING ABOVE IS CALIFORNIA HALL, BUILT IN 1905 AND USED FIRST FOR CLASSROOMS, THEN FOR ADMINISTRATION. WITH THE COMPLETION OF A NEW ADMINISTRATION BUILDING, CAL HALL WILL FURNISH CLASSROOMS FOR THE LAW SCHOOL.

BERKELEY CAMPUS

NESTLED ON THE NORTH SIDE OF THE CAMPUS IS THE HEARST MINING BUILDING. HOME TO THE BERKELEY ENGINEERING STUDENTS THE BUILDING WAS GIVEN TO THE UNIVERSITY BY MRS. PHOEBE HEARST IN MEMORY OF HER HUSBAND, SENATOR GEORGE HEARST, AND CONSTRUCTION WAS BEGUN ON NOVEMBER 18 1902

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICERS

Robert Gordon Sproul, President of the University of California, is a true California man. He is a graduate of the campus at Berkeley, where he, like most students in their college careers, for reasons best known to himself, changed from one major to another. As an undergraduate, he was prominent in campus activities. He went in for the military, acted as drum major, was a sports announcer, ran the two-mile track, and held several student body offices. His presidency was preceded by his acting as Cashier and Assistant Comptroller of the University, Secretary of the Regents, Vice-President and Comptroller of the University. He is informal in manner, and much sought after as a speaker. His speaking is characterized by an apparent phobia regarding the efficiency of the microphone. When he says, "All those within range of my voice . . .", it seems likely that he means it as a direct address to all his listeners in California.

PROVOST

Earle Raymond Hedrick, Vice-President and Provost of the University of California, finds his primary interest in the growth of school spirit in the University, as the reader has probably noticed if he has ever seen Mr. Hedrick and his hat at a football game. His second interest, and a more personal one, is in the culture of canna lilies. If you meet him, he will probably invite you to pick one from the bed at the back of the Library. And don't let the gardener stop you. Provost Hedrick has a large family of which he is justly proud. He was President of the American Mathematical Association in 1929 and in 1930, besides being the author of several books on that subject. He succeeded Dr. Ernest Carroll Moore as Provost of the University of California at Los Angeles in 1937.

CULBERT L. OLSON

Acting as Chairman of the Board of Regents of one of the largest Universities in the country, Governor Culbert L. Olson more than adequately fills his position. Governor Olson has been one of the foremost proponents of advancing the prestige and rank of the University. Through his support of the self-help cooperative plan, he has enabled a greater number of people to avail themselves of the University facilities. Whenever the University participates in an athletic contest, he is there as an ardent rooter, sharing the distinction along with President Sproul of always being on the winning side in all California-U.C.L.A. contests.

Boards of Regents, seated clockwise: Harold Ellis, Head of University News Service; Stuart O'Melveny; Monroe Deutsch, Vice President, University at Berkeley; Joseph D. Hodgen; James Mills; Charles Adolph Ramm; Robert M. Underhill, Secretary-Treasurer of Regents; Culbert L. Olson, Governor of California; Robert Gordon Sproul, President of University; Mortimer Fleishacker; Luther A. Nichols, Comptroller of University; John U. Calkins, Attorney for the Regents; James K. Moffett; Garrett McEnerney.

Aside from his deany duties, Hurford E. Stone of the Undergraduate Division enjoys mountain life and gardening. Dean Stone also shows preference for red neckties and new cars.

If he is neither traveling, playing tennis, writing books, nor hiking, Dean Watkins is sure to be performing his duties as Dean of the College of Letters and Science.

Dean Noble of the College of Business Administration keeps golf scores with Dean Watkins and writes books on The Principles of Accounting.

THE LAWS OF THE

Dean of Women Helen M. Laughlin has been practically everywhere and knows practically everyone and has done practically everything. Needless to say, she is as popular as she is efficient.

Interested in a "golden age of sound", Dean Knudsen of the Graduate Division does avocational research into acoustics and music.

Acting Ass't. Dean of Agriculture Hodgson is a good fellow despite his imposing title of Subtropical Horticulturist. He is fond of travel and his many foreign decorations.

UNIVERSITY

Dean Cozens of the College of Applied Arts has his finger in our academic pie for the twenty-five years. In addition to his official duties, Dean Cozens also teaches track and field classes.

The rapid increase in the size of the College of Education and its attendant high standards are fitting tributes to the ability of the late Marvin L. Darsie, Dean of Education. His untiring devotion to his work will not soon be forgotten.

Dean Williams heads the Summer Session for six weeks and then spends the other forty-six of the year in planning for the next session and attending the meetings of innumerable committees.

A. S. U. C. EXECUTIVES

FRED KOEBIG . . . PRESIDENT

A whacking good politician, Fred Koebig stepped into the presidential office after four years of crew and military experience. Colonel Koebig handled the full-time job of trying to please every-one with handsome diplomacy and stage presence. Through the "reign of tutors" Fred also tactfully brought up the literate standard of his subjects.

LUCRETIA TENNEY • VICE-PRESIDENT

Burdened with her top-heavy title, Lucretia Tenney delved calmly into her social and official responsibilities as Vice-President of the Associated Students. "Cretie", for all her beguiling petiteness, had big ideas and proved the efficiency of femininity as both a capable and a charming political figure.

2. Ackerman dictates to Marty Grim

Bruin Publications

Executive officers of Kerckhoff have their work and their whimsies. Affectionately known as "Sturzy", A. J. Sturzenegger has charge of all transportation, athletic storerooms, and equipment, while Ticket-Manager Harry Morris plays with model trains in his off-hours. Graduate Manager Ackerman coaches the tennis teams, Ben Person capably manages the Athletic News Bureau, and Joe Osherenko controls Bruin publications—but shuns the personal publicity of Kerckhoff fame. Stepping into the jobs vacated by the resignations of C. M. McClure and Bob Rasmus, Mrs. Fern D. Kelly manages the Co-op with a domestic touch, while Ralph Stillwell handles book-business in the Student Store.

The administrative and legislative body of the A.S.U.C.L.A. is composed of the Student Council, and was headed this year by Fred Koebig, student body president. The purpose of the organization is to form active policies which will benefit not only the present students of U.C.L.A., but also those future members of the University. Through the efforts of the Council such bodies as the Labor Board, the Peace Council, and the Cooperative Store have been formed. This year has seen the establishment of the first Associated Student weekly radio program, "The Bruin Speaks", under the direction of the Music and Service Board, and the inauguration of broadcast rallies on campus. A nation-wide Collegiate Peace Poll representing the opinions of a hundred thousand students of the United States was also authorized by the Student Council. And by the end of the fall semester the long-awaited paved parking lot was completed. Situated north of the Administration Building, the lot accommodates four hundred fifty cars. On all roads of student activity and welfare, the progressive wheels of our University are dependent upon the legislative power of the Student Council.

Fred Koebig and Mike MacBan, S.C. student body prexy, seem to be enjoying themselves as Dean Stone ponders and Barbara Wight just looks

Johnny Jackson studies a momentous issue as Dean Stone seems to have stumped Karl Gustafson on something, to judge from the latter's expression

Oh! happy day, joy reigneth supreme. Prexy Fred grins engagingly, Mary Lee McClellan dimples coyly, and George Oliver laughs during one of the lighter moments

Seated: Martha Grim, Helen M. Laughlin, Lucretia Tenney. Standing: Bill Ackerman, Deming Maclise, Fred Koebig, John Jackson, Dick Jones.

B O A R D O F C O N T R O L

As the Student Council formulates the policy of the Associated Students, so the Board of Control is final authority on all monetary matters. The unprecedented success of the last football season, and increased A.S.U.C. income should somewhat relieve the Board from its penny-pinching problems during the next year. Comptroller Maclise, Deans Stone and Laughlin, Alumni Secretary Jackson, and Graduate Manager Ackerman are permanent members of the Board by virtue of their offices. Student Body President Fred Koebig, Vice-President Lucretia Tenney, and O.C.B. Chairman Dick Jones served as student members for this past year.

ORGANIZATION'S CONTROL BOARD

The O.C.B. is perhaps one of the most ambitious, if not the most effective of campus organizations. Chairman Dick Jones put a rather reactionary measure before the Student Council the fall semester. His proposal that unrecognized organizations be denied publicity in Bruin publications was passed by the Student Council. Aroused student opinion forced the Council to rescind its decision. Undaunted, the O.C.B. still maintained its duties, regulating organization recognition, social activities, and welfare functions for student transportation and mail.

The Jones Girls, Billie Mae Thomas and Mary Alice Madden, add efficiency as well as pulchritude to Kerckhoff Hall 209

Alumni President and official speech-maker,
Mr. Philip Davis acts as public relations ambassador.

Ambitious Ann Sumner, Alumni Vice-President and member of the U.C.L.A. News Bureau, finds time to manage University Broadcasts.

Deming G. Maclise, Assistant Comptroller, and Treasurer of the Alumni, works in coordination with David Yule, Chairman of the Finance Committee.

Genial John B. Jackson, Secretary, coordinates Alumni activities and edits the U.C.L.A. Magazine.

A lawyer by profession and the President of the Alumni by election, M. Philip Davis divides his interests between his business and his alums. Active in campus work, Miss Ann Sumner, Vice-President, and Deming G. Maclise, Treasurer, also share their executive abilities. However, Miss Sumner has been a member of the Alumni Council and numerous other alumni committees despite her activities in conjunction with the University News Bureau, Extension Division News, and University Broadcasts. And Mr. Maclise's position as Assistant Comptroller of the University makes him the ideal person to handle the alumni association's finances. In undergraduate days, he was a star hurdler at Berkeley, and he now assists Harry Trotter in coaching Bruin hurdlers as another side-track of his official duties. John B. Jackson, Secretary, is the only alumni officer who holds a full-time position. "Johnny" was editor of Southern Campus a football letterman, and a track man in his college days. He now edits the alumni magazine, and since taking office last year, has changed the policy to boost both Alumni and student activities.

Seated: Emily Patterson, Rowe Baldwin, M. Philip Davis, Mary Morrison. Standing: Colver Briggs, Fred Koebig, Frank Klingberg, Deming Maclise, John Jackson, Walt Stickel, A. Gearhard Eger.

Alumni Activities

Sophomores Betty Beal, Johnny Wardlaw—and some eight hundred others—step out of class at the Alumni Homecoming dance

Del Hobbs, Alumni Homecoming Chairman, risks all for the sake of his alma mater and the Bruins A-Bursting alumni show. Meat-cleaving magician Russell Swann holds the blade.

Hashing over "old days" at the Alumni buffet supper, J. L. Jones, Frank Balthis, and Fred Houser hail back to the halls of Kerckhoff for some good old Co-op chow and pow-wow!

This year finds the U.C.L.A. Alumni Association increasing its membership at a rapid rate. There has been a reawakening of interest in football on the part of the Alumni this year, which fact is probably responsible for the ensuing increase. The Association publishes two magazines. One is a football supplement and is devoted to information about the team and to dressing room dope. It is printed on the evening following every game. The other is a monthly publication which reports spicy information concerning campus personalities and activities. The Alumni also have a scholarship program. Last June, four scholarships were given to incoming Freshmen, who were not, necessarily, football players. Next year the Alumni plan to double this number of scholarships. In conjunction with its other activities, the Association also sponsors several Regional clubs in outlying districts, such as Glendale, San Diego, Santa Barbara, Ventura, etc., at which speakers from the University are present, and movies of the games are shown. There are two homecomings each year; one is in the spring and is academic in nature. The other is in the fall, and is devoted purely to social activities, such as the parade, the bonfire, and a large dance in the Gymnasium. The Alumni Association solicits gifts for the University and is in large part responsible for many of the donations which have been made us.

We, the Senior Class, have just been writing the final pages to our four volume book entitled "College." The first three books are complete, but the fourth and last remains to be written, so with that old feeling of sad farewells we take pen in hand and record the first chapter of this, the last volume, which regards the elections of the Senior Officers who served their offices well. The second chapter regards the successful events which President John Cole, Vice-President Sue Van Dyke, Secretary LaVerne Anderson, Treasurer Dave MacTavish and the council planned for us. The social season began with a big turkey dance in November, apropos to Thanksgiving. Tom, the turkey, was made the center of attraction because the person at the dance with the lucky number "Got the Bird," which was none the worse for its extended flights through Royce Aud. Smaller affairs like the picnics on Kerckhoff lawn and a few closed dances continued through the winter, but events were really in the upswing in the spring. Everyone enjoyed the very exclusively-senior beach party. A few unsuspected ducklings and some very delectable sand-flavored food made the party all the more fun. But what we will probably remember longest was Senior Week in early June. Aside from the usual run of luncheons and dinner parties, there were farewell addresses that almost made us sorry we were finally graduating. Then came a Senior Prom that truly satisfied all of our anticipation—breakfast, orchestra, entertainment,—everything was perfect. Well, now only one thing remains to be written—Chapter III, the last in the book. It tells of gladness and sadness, the end of an old pursuit and the beginning of a new. This was graduation. The years have come and gone and 'tis time that on this last page of the book we inscribe

FINIS

Thanks a million, Johnny, for the grand senior affairs you put over so well.

One Theta + charm + beauty + brains + efficiency + being Vice-President = Sue Van Dyke.

The senior officers and councilmen gathered for their usual Wednesday get-togethers, better known as council meetings. Meeting was called to order by genial Johnny Cole (except when he had his tonsils out and couldn't talk), social events listed by scintillating Sue Van Dyke, minutes read by lovely LaVerne Anderson, and the fines collected by dashing Dave MacTavish. Aside from the usual small talk and thinking up "Confucious say," the meetings did have their serious sides, when lots of good things were planned for the senior class. Highlighted was the climax of four full years—the Senior Ball, Senior Week which came early in June, consisted of a series of breakfasts, luncheons, and dinners, informal dances, farewell addresses, and worrying about their final finals.

Council minutes and all the senior class correspondence kept LaVerne good and busy.

Dave MacTavish probably pinched Lincoln's face off the pennies the seniors' saved.

Here is some real evidence of the Senior Council at work. Johnnie certainly got near-sighted if he's actually reading those plans.

By the time the Senior Picnic was over everyone had his swallows perfectly timed to "Oh, Johnnie".

Eleanor isn't running for the exercise; she was dragged into this exciting game of "Drop the handkerchief." Seniors are frequently seen indulging in such sophisticated games.

The holder of the lucky ticket gets it!

A toast to the guy who gets the bird!

The happy smiles are signs of relief for having completed the plans for the Junior Prom. Treasure Patton was so startled by the sunlight that he forgot to open his eyes. The photographer, however, came to his rescue, and since then he has been known as "Button-eye Dick."

JUNIOR OFFICERS AND

COUNCIL

Twenty years from now, when you are reminiscing over your carefree days as a college junior, this is the picture you will recall when you read the old 1940 Southern Campus. The first important event was welcoming into office the new class executives. You proudly presented as president a likeable fellow named Ray Gillette. Peggy Stewart, Kay Lewis, and Dick Patton were other luminaries. Not to be outdone by the lower classmen, juniors sponsored the new custom of "dirty cords Wednesday". The event of events was the colossal Junior Prom, where a few jitterbugs jittered and all paid homage to Terpsi chore, ruler of the evening. Thus the fun, frolic, and festivities of the class of '41 became history.

This treat was on President Bob Alshuler. Treasurer Al Paquin advised economy; therefore, the community "coke". The coke streamed away under forced draft as soon as this picture was snapped. Mary Magee and Mary Frances Rickershauser drank down more than their share with all the speed of a Jackie Robinson 60-yard dash.

8 SOPHOMORE OFFICERS AND

COUNCIL

Recipe for success:—Take a capable president like Bob Alshuler, a vice-president like Mary Frances Rickershauser; Mary Magee for secretary and Al Paquin for treasurer—mix them with a couple of thousand enthusiastic sophs—the result is a good class. For color throw in a victorious brawl (the frosh lost, 2-0); for spice add one large barn dance with plenty of straw and corny music. To keep things rolling, whip in a skating party. For a lasting flavor stir in a few pinches of tradition such as formal attire once a week, featuring red hair ribbons, T shirts, and blue jeans. For decoration, a blue and gold "C" guarded by the 42-ers. The finished product is one grand sophomore class.

COUNCIL

September 18, 1939. Flash! Two thousand freshmen were born to U.C.L.A. Still gasping for their first breath, the youngsters began to break in their hitherto unused vocal chords. The result—head yeller, Bob Hine; Pat Scott to substitute if Bob's voice gave out; Betty Stacy, recorder; and Max Dunn, the lad who cried for dues. The babes got their first baths in the muo with the soops as nurses. Undaunted, the kids adjusted their blue and gold bonnets and set to work making fun, tradition and history. Highlight on the fun list was the Leap Year dance, when the girls cooped the question. Frosh Wednesday, the day for green hair ribbons and dinks, became tradition. Life began in 1940!

Behind the mike you see Stu (Bob Trout) Wilson. I 'ear you talking McCune is busy calling for the next performer.

It's true that some people on campus really enter into things but when they go Hawaiian for the Pajamerino, that's showing real spirit

PUBLICATIONS

The Publications Board, theoretically a policy-determining body and a filler of positions on the Bruin and the Southern Campus, this year determined no policies and filled no positions. With a fine disregard for the authority of the Board, the Student Council determined policies and made Bruin appointments right and left. This left the Publications Board free to spend its meetings arguing over the difference between news and publicity, while its members variously slept, smiled, hurled insults and waved banners for the freedom of the press.

U.C.L.A.'s first director of Publications, Joe R. Osherenko, who rounds out ten years of service to the University pictured with his assistant Alice Tilden.

As the cub learns his newspaper lingo—the social life of a Bruin butterfly is not necessarily that of a night editor; proof is not a good excuse for mamma, nor are low bases scoundrels. Deadlines are not firing squads; galleys, butler's pantries; nor sliced stories, Co-op specials. Column rules are not the dictates of the press, and even a slug is not a snail in every walk of life.

Milt Cohen

Paula Berman

The Bruin journalist is the man with teletype jitters and typewriter phobia. He is a diplomat with a good story, an apt lead, and an "in" with Sally White. He visits art exhibits and lectures, interviews profs, and scoops the dirt and dope for the daily news. Attending classes when not "sitting on the desk," he also acquires a liberal education, together with a more profane use of the English language.

Headlines of the year—'U.C.L.A. Voted Country Club College.' Freedom of the Press Threatened by O.C.B. Censorship.' 'Minority Problems Attacked by Press.' 'Bruins Skin Bears In Homecoming Game.' 'Suppression Of Civil Liberties Accused.' '100,000 Students Vote Against War In National Peace Poll.' 'Of Thee I Sing, Musical Hit.' Standing: Grant Shepard, Don Ewing, Jack Morrison.

Starting at the bottom of the picture and working clockwise, we find Betty Gray Bowling, Ruth Pottle, Mary Welch, Stuart Wilson, and Boice Richardson.

Moliere's comedy, "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme," was the traditional fall All-U play, and second in the series of Great Comedies presented on campus. Produced by the combined work of six departments, it was given in realistic 17th century style, the actors employing the Comedie-Ballet technique. Mary Welch and Fred Devenney played opposite each other in the title roles with romantic leads portrayed by Ruth Pottle and Boice Richardson, low comedy by Betty Gray Bowling and Stu Wilson. Beverly Gardiner and Bruce Matchette added suave sophistication to the four well-attended performances.

Umpire Wilson dusts off home plate with an appraising glance as Betty Gray Bowling grimaces in excruciating agony. It's a quaint way these French have of playing baseball.

Forensics students put in a good word or two for the University during the past academic year. The season was opened by the Cal-U.C.L.A. debate over C.B.S. during Homecoming Week, and climaxed by an All-U Extemp contest in the spring. At long last the Associated Students had their say-so. Inter-collegiate competition was held with all representative West Coast colleges in debate, oratory, and extemporaneous speech. The Championship was lost to S.C. in the L.A.C.C. Tournament, but U.C.L.A. ran a close second, and won first laurels for panel discussion at the Stockton meet, most important event of the year.

Forensics Board, seated: Kaiser, Long, Oliver, Everett, Moeller. Standing: Glickman, Moore, Friedman, Vrba, Rudin, Williams, Dickerman, Bordon, Skolovsky, Irvin, McCune, Magee.

It can always be said of Forensics Board chairman George Oliver that he means well. His perpetual grin proves that.

Ninety members struck up the band for U.C.L.A. and the football season. Regardless of Saturday morning rehearsals, stunt and march practice, the boys turned out to cheer and watch the team fight on for victories. But the Santa Clara half-time stunt almost stole the glory when the band did a take-off on the team, the tuba player fainted, and a substitute was called in. Also snaring honors was fourteen year old mascot Jimmy Casebier, California state champion and Bruin drum major. The basketball and ice hockey seasons saw a smaller, more spirited turn-out both for the score boards and the band boys. Practice for the Spring Concert and the National Music Festival began early in the year and what with All-U Sings and other campus affairs which required their turn-out, the boys did a pretty good job of tooting their horns for Leroy Allen, director of the band.

The band, noted for its smoothly executed marching maneuvers, was hampered at the Oregon game by the valiant efforts of the Spurs to form a duck in the middle of the field. The whole idea, which was the inspiration neither of the band nor of the Spurs, laid an egg, but the duck was not even recognizable.

"Through the tunnel at the west end of the Coliseum comes the Bruin Band. Here they are, ladies and gentlemen, the men who made those words ring out."

The Men's and Women's Glee Clubs kept in good voice for the season's programs. Extending their repertoire for the Folk Festival, spring Glee Club contest at Occidental, spring concert, and the May Day Open House, the combined Gleees also participated in many other campus musicales. Rehearsal hours were offset by social hours, hay-rides and banquets. Perhaps it was the spirit of glee that prevailed when members went Christmas caroling in the University library and were promptly ejected.

The Women's Glee Club, led by Stella Kilmer as president and Ray Moreman as director, has been unusually good this year because they have practiced singing with the Men's Glee Club on hayrides.

Since the band gets all the glory, few people know that U.C.L.A. also possesses a fine orchestra which is directed by Leroy Allen. Always highly competent, the group has been particularly well-rounded this year because of additions to the brass and wood-wind sections. Unusual is the fact that most of the musicians are soloists in their own right, as well as being capable ensemble players.

Highlighting a successful season for the A Cappella Choir was the Christmas Concert which attracted an enthusiastic audience in Royce Hall Auditorium. Under the direction of Ray Moreman, the group, besides its campus activities, assisted in the church services throughout Southern California. For singing at such occasions, the choir has received much favorable comment.

Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robertson combine their personal careers as man and wife with their musical careers as the outstanding artists in the two-piano field.

On its first trip to the Pacific Coast, the Westminster Chorus of Westminster College sang before an appreciative audience in Royce Hall. The mixed chorus of forty singers, directed by Dr. John Finley Williamson, its founder, has been giving concerts for fifteen years and is widely acclaimed as one of the finest groups of its kind in the world. Its repertoire included music both modern and classic, sacred and secular.

Raya Garbousova, an artist of long years of professional experience, though she is not yet thirty, is considered one of the finest living virtuosos of the cello.

Angna Enters, a master in the field of dance-mimicry, fascinated her U.C.L.A. audience with her vivid characterizations.

WESTGARD CO-OPERATIVE

An unusual and beneficial organization is the Westgard Co-operative. Made up of 26 women students and 26 men students, the organization is co-operative in the sense that it does all buying of foodstuffs as a unit as well as having its members prepare and serve the meals. Socially, it is active having an annual formal dance and numerous impromptu affairs.

"Mother" McClellan of the Associated Women Students holds office hours from two to three "most every afternoon," presides at the weekly freshman teas, and requisitions ping pong balls and hot water bottles for the Women's Lounge. In spare moments Mary Lec attends to other odd jobs, classes, and her collection of maps.

V-P and social chairman, Loretta Yager plans to culminate her college career in the academic role of school marm.

Up-to-the-minute Harriet Stacy serves on the A.W.S. cabinet as secretary.

4,074 strong, the A.W.S. keeps most of its freshman women busy with committee work and the earning of activity credits for Spurs. Many other honoraries also tap from the ranks of the A.W.S. service groups, so that the spring activity banquet is an exciting event for the B.W.O.C.—Big Women On Campus. New committee heads and A.W.S. officers are also introduced at this time, and awards and certificates presented to outstanding workers in campus activities. Amazons all, the A.W.S. are still interested in the much discussed A.M.S. New ventures this year were the first and very popular A.W.S.-A.M.S. dances held after the Monday night Sings. Next year's stag line will form to the right.

October 20th was a red-letter day for the women students as it marked the celebration of the annual Hi-Jinks. For women only! Two and a half thousand women—and eight males—crowded into Royce for the big show while vigilant Spurs policed entrances with brooms and dust mops. Catch of the evening was Bruin supporter Bob Barsky, "The male must go through!" He was the captive and paid the price by escorting the captives to the women's gym for dancing, and then he won a prize afterwards after the program. A contest will be held to decide next year's Hi-Jinks.

Koto Inui spent hours writing up minutes, which is very confusing. Ruth Nelson as corresponding secretary wrote all the letters, which she enjoyed doing because she liked to lick the stamps.

"She is a Queen" said the Homecoming Committee, when they discovered the gaiety and beauty which had been tucked away in the Spanish department in the person of Eleanor Everett. Experts agreed with them and Eleanor became U.C.L.A.'s co-ed number one.

The lovely face of Ayleen Searl is a familiar sight to many people on campus because of her participation in Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Kappa Phi, and her affiliation with Tri Delta. Ayleen's charming personality, and ready smile have contributed much to her popularity.

The campus has shown its recognition of Barbara Nichols' pulchritude by naming her Attendant to the Homecoming Queen and favorite model of A.W.S. fashion shows. Glamorous Barbara is an outstanding asset to the Delta Gamma's front line.

In September Elinor Vetter, a freshman at Central College, was unheard of out Westwood way; however, her beauty, grace, and sparkling beauty were not ignored for long. She soon became Homecoming Queen attendant and the first pageant.

Distinctive and refreshing is lovely Jeanne Battelle, nugget of Hershey Hall. Although Jeanne is but a lower classman, she has gained recognition in the Art department, and she is credited with making Hershey's Tea Dances socially successful.

Mary Shorkley's regal beauty, enhanced by her French training. After 15 years of concentrated work in extra-curricular activities, Mary turned her attention to academic and social life. Despite her popularity and acclaim, she remains reserved and completely charming.

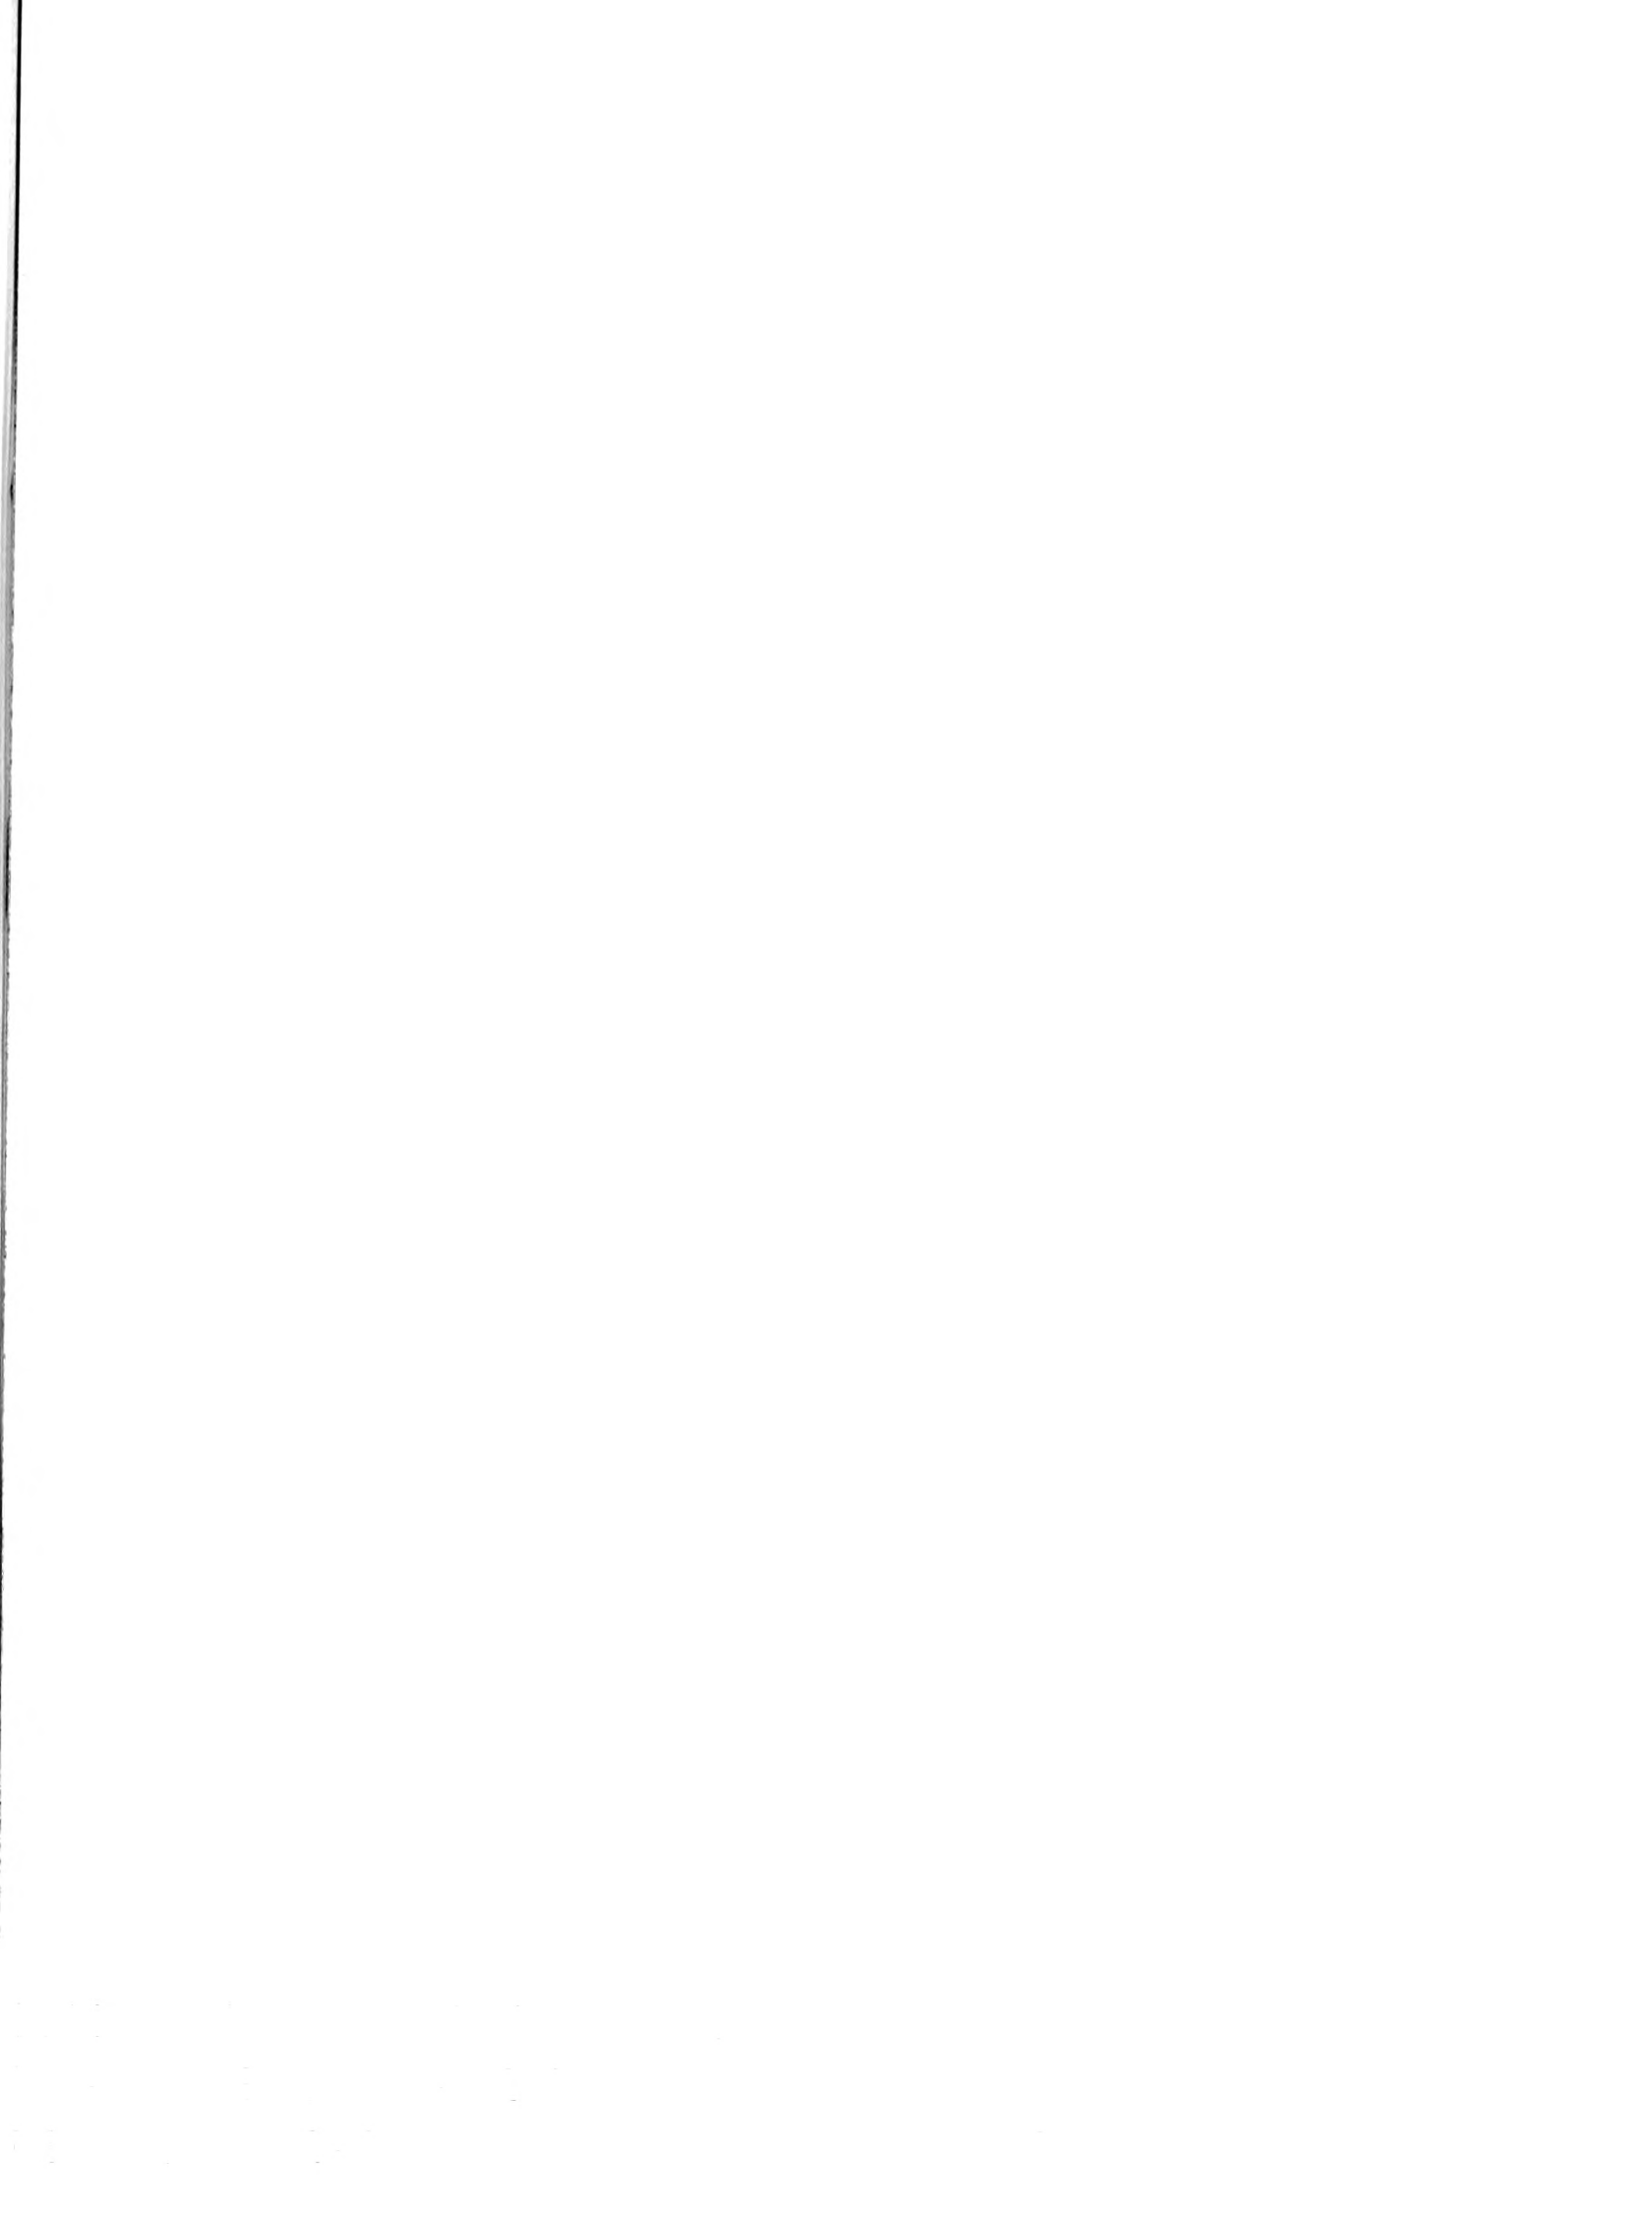

Barbara Hull, winner of a freshman scholarship, has proved that academic and non-academic activities can be mixed if industry and charm are present as catalysts. The Alpha Phis are proud of Barbara as a scholar, activity-girl, and social whirler.

Dorothy Dodge is the charming Chi Omega who has taken practically every honor awarded at U.C.L.A. for feminine beauty. Because of her natural loveliness and friendly personality Bruins acclaimed Dottie as the most popular Crew Queen ever selected.

MEN'S ORGANIZATIONS

The AMS Council meets, eats, and talks . . .

Norm Padgett builds tradition for men's activities

Able headed this year by Norm Padgett, the Associated Men Students has sprung from a five-year lethargy into an awareness of its duties. Of course, after the long period of stagnation, much groundwork had to be relaid. To this end, the Council, a group of men representative of the various student activities, has become a research group to untangle the problems of housing for men and the orienting of old, as well as new, students. Not only have these snarls been attacked, but also the A.M.S. has begun the task of being the service organization that it should. In this field, work has started on the compilation of places, orchestras and prices available for social events, the coordination of all activities of campus men, and the revival of interest in sports for non-organized men. Men's Week, as the traditional A.M.S. blowout, was a well run success with several real beads and a number of hairs that tried very hard to do things. With the firm foundation that such work has put down, the succeeding men should find the row much easier to hoe.

The Athletic Board has charge of athletic awards, passes on the eligibility of the school's athletes, and makes up the schedules of several of the minor sports.

The odor of these people was distinctly disagreeable, a form of intentional "BOO"

Starting out with no more than the usual campus abnormalities, Men's Week built up to a stench. The reek of unwashed male bodies was nauseating, stubble grew into itchy undergrowth, and clothes stood by themselves when, and if, removed. Headed by Spike Honig, the period of reversion to tripe was successful and, for a change, entertaining. The infested fiesta began on Monday, with an All-U Sing: Will Osborne and his orchestra played; Lionel Hampton literally whipped the xylophone, piano and drums; and Gaylord Carter really made the organ sit up and beg. After the Sing the evening was just under way, for there was a dance in the Women's Gym (this was the first day, so it was still possible to get close enough to the men to dance with them). Tuesday, and Wednesday all was quiet: the Stag was called off. No fun without funds, it was said.

Hospital Case History: "Dead on arrival"

And for a long while, all that was heard was the champing of many well-oiled jaws

Here is a wild group of U.C.L.A. men. They have just seen the most thrilling event ever staged at a Men's Do. They didn't get the point, but some of them have learned they are supposed to applaud when an act is finished.

Why, boys! What would Emily say?

Thursday, however, it was a different story, for the men had a picnic on the lawn in front of Kerckhoff. It turned out to be a shambles, but the bodies were carried away before they became too noticeable. Then came Friday, Tramp Day with the Men's Do that evening. During the day, Honig and his filthy crew heckled all those who didn't have beards and dirty clothes. Hecking isn't always fun, though. Especially, when it is being done twenty-five feet beneath fifteen gallons of suddenly unashed water. Everything was all under control by evening, however, and the Men's Do did. The program consisted of several wrestlers, judo artists, rosters Joe E. Brown and Alan Hale, and a cast of other stars. It was good. But the climax came when a large pile of Co-op spaghetti and meat sauce was dumped and floated home over the roof of the

The military unit at U.C.L.A. is composed of Infantry, Coast Artillery, and the newly formed Naval R.O.T.C. The army unit is trained by a staff of Regular Army officers headed by Col. Severson, and the naval unit is under the direction of Captain Battle. The course of training is divided into the basic and the advanced course, each course comprising two years. Students of the army R.O.T.C. who have shown outstanding ability are selected for the advanced course, and become the cadet officers, and as such they are required to attend a summer training camp. In the Navy the fellows take a cruise to the Hawaiian Islands where they can enjoy all the activities that most of us get no closer to than pictures in a book. This year both units have adopted the army's new streamlined drill, which is simpler, but still sufficient to attain the required standard of efficiency. This efficiency of the units has become a tradition at U.C.L.A., both having received the highest rating possible for general excellency in 1939 and 1940.

George Feister is a geology major. This is enough for most people, as it means tramping all over southern California every weekend, but handsome George also succeeds in winning medals and waving a wicked sabre in the R.O.T.C. and in captivating the Hilgard lassies.

An enviable ability to make friends with everybody has aided modest Ray Magee in making a name for himself. Formerly somewhat of a politician and activity man, Ray is spending his last year at U.C.L.A. as student, man-about-campus, and Phi Kap par excellence.

Sweetheart of the row and favorite son of the Phi Delt house is Danny O'Flaherty. This likeable son of Erin has also engaged in practically every activity for which men are eligible, including the Organizations Control Board, Homecoming, and class politics.

Minor sports and personable Scott Miller are almost synonymous. His untiring work to establish ice hockey has resulted in its becoming the most important and only self-sustaining minor sport. He is also secretary of the Interfraternity Council.

Tall and dark Pierce Gannon knows all the best places to go and the best people to be seen with, for which the Beta house points to him with pride. Rally committeeman, class councilman, and politician, he is popular with both men and women of campus society.

An all-around activity man, George Bliss has taken part in such diversified things as politics, track and cross country, advanced R.O.T.C., Rally Committee, Scabbard and Blade, and Blue Key. Friendly and agreeable, George has as many friends as any student in the University.

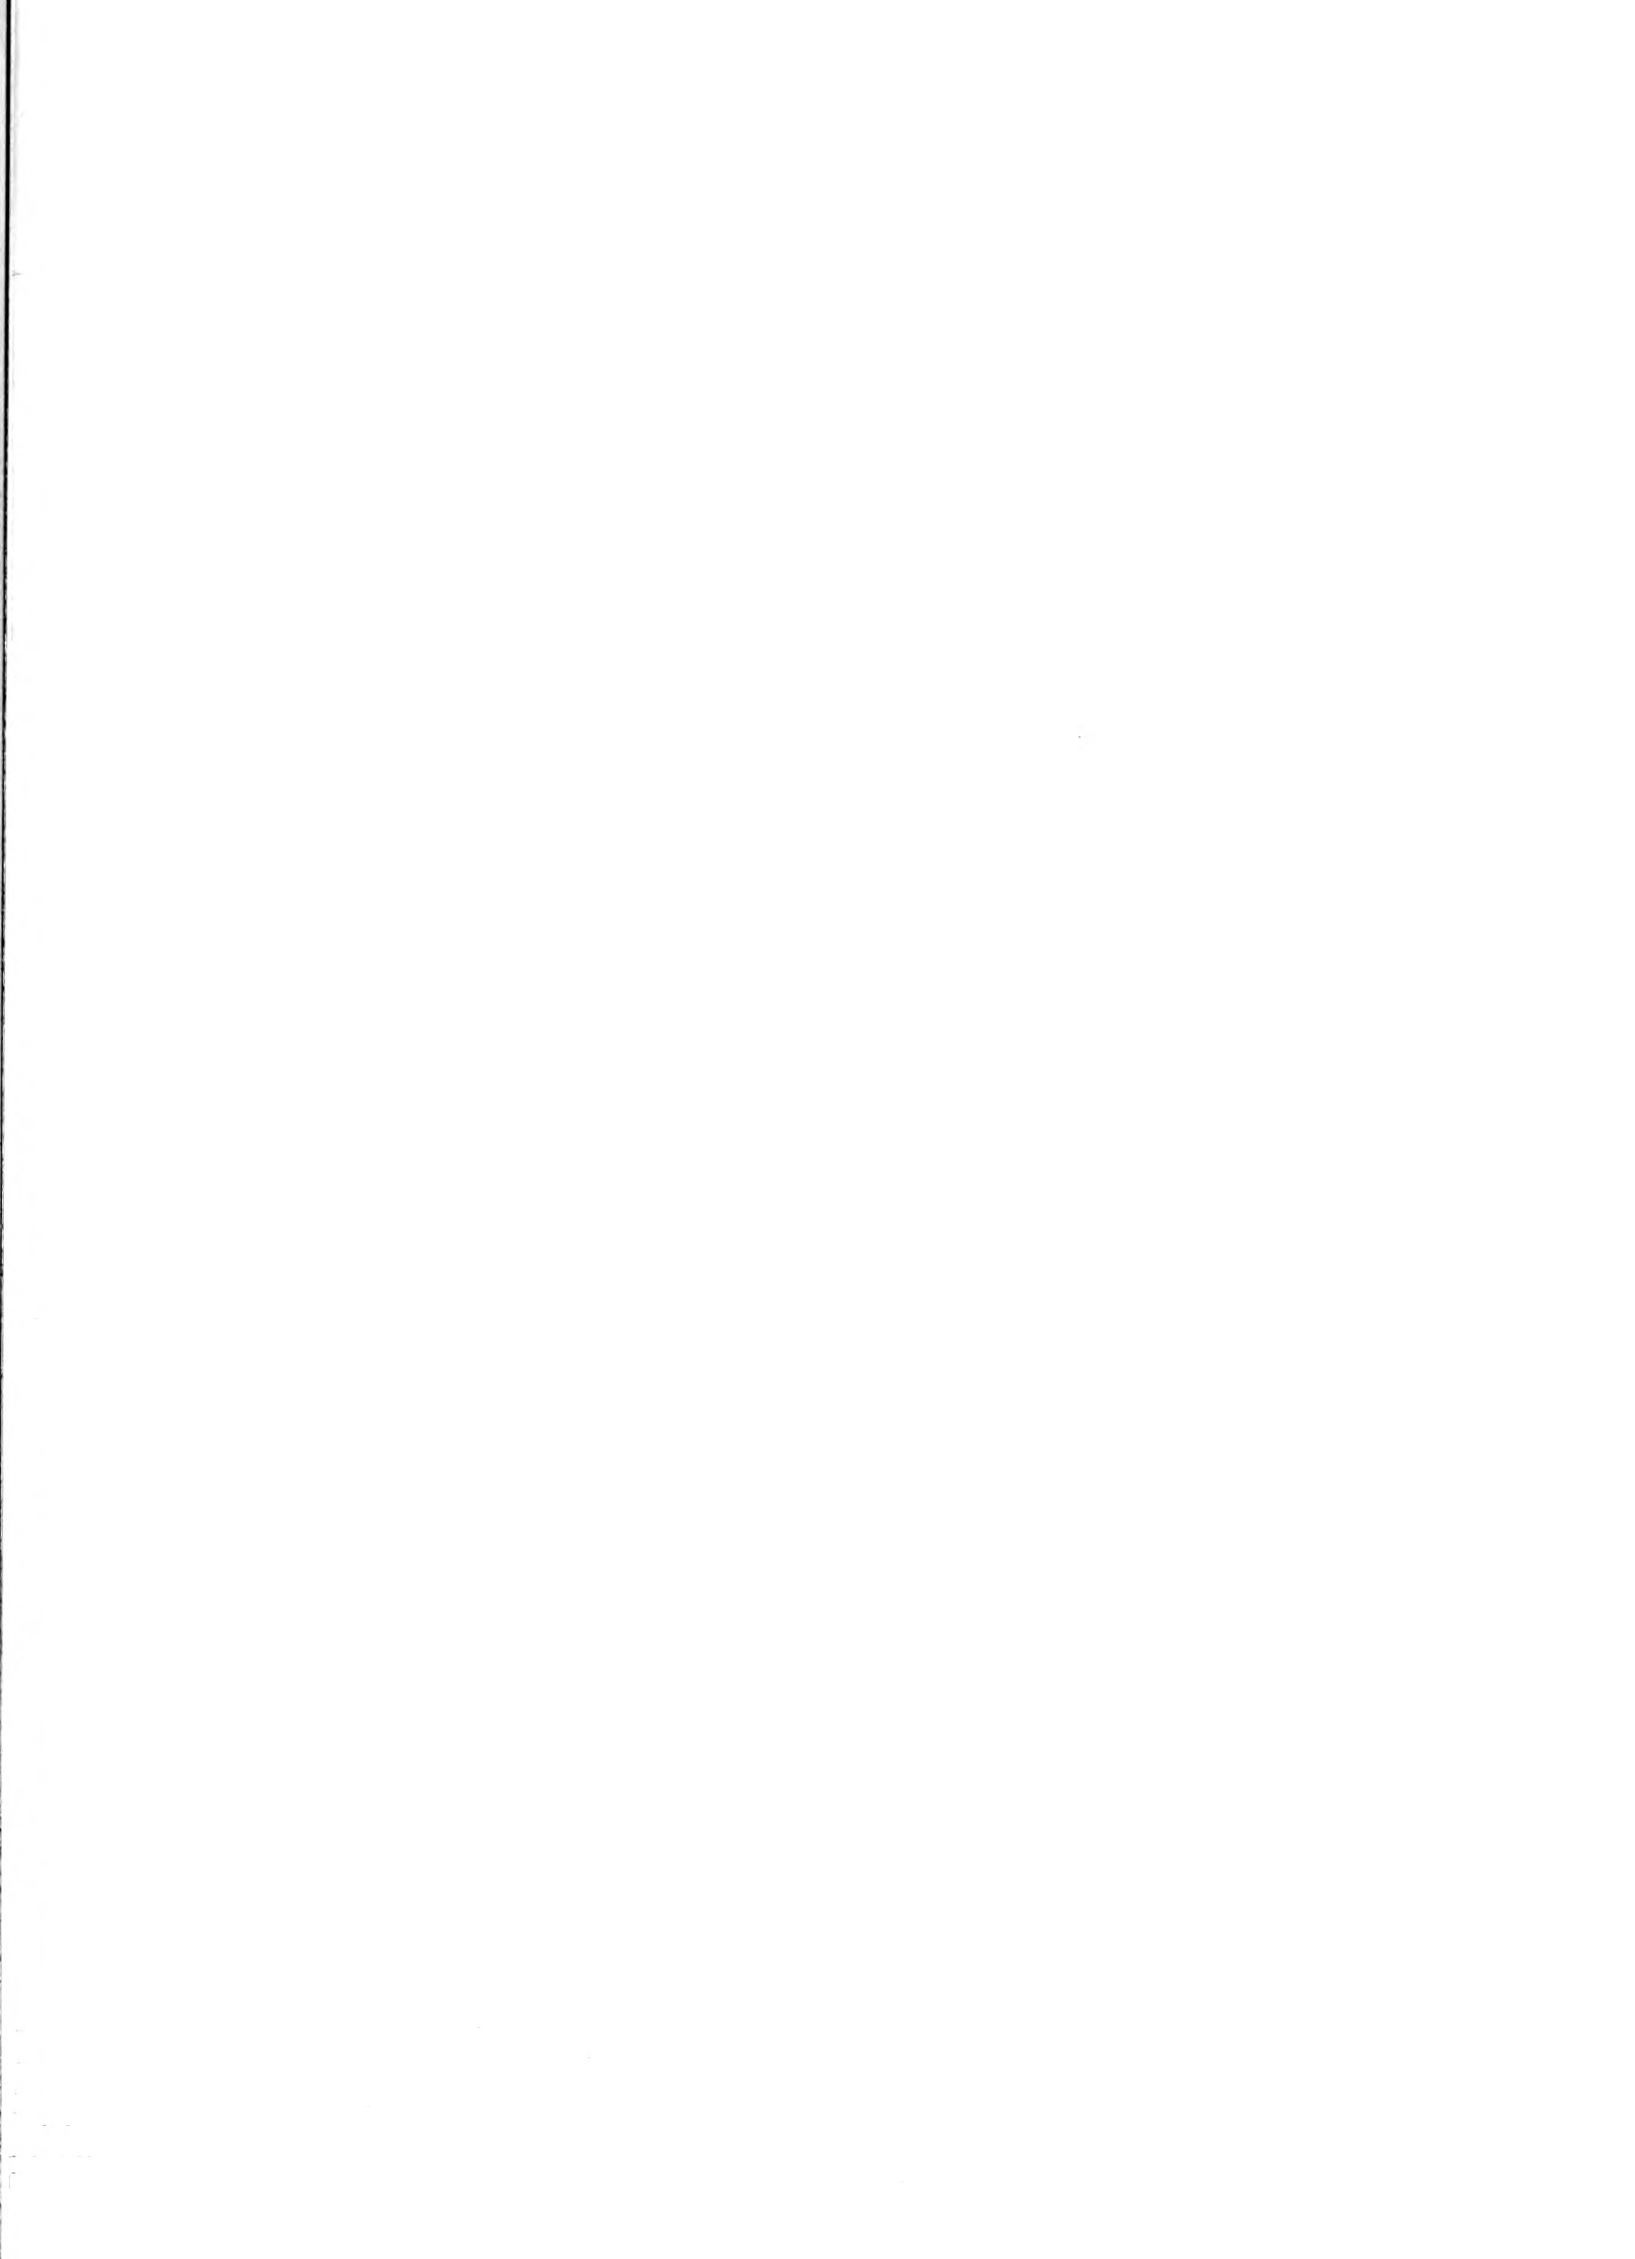

The army and the track team point to Jack Blaikie with pride, and with good reason. A fine officer and athlete, Jack numbers among his accomplishments two major sports letters, Scabbard and Blade, positions on class councils, and a most infectious grin.

A journalist of some note, Hal Gilliam has written many sparkling articles for the Daily Bruin feature page. He has also proven himself a fine leader, giving the California Men new life while serving as their president this year. Incidentally, he is an excellent student.

Bruin tacklers swarm in for the kill

Opening the season with a style of play hitherto foreign to U.C.L.A. football teams, the Bruin varsity proceeded to cut down the highly-touted footballers from Texas Christian University. The time-worn hidden ball play completely baffled the Texans and accounted for six points and victory for U.C.L.A. With gains made by each team only in the middle of the field, the first half ended without score. The Bruins opened the third quarter with a sustained drive to a touchdown. Bill Overlin and Kenny Washington took turns carrying the piece, while the Horned Frogs chased after the elusive defensive Jackie Robinson. Texas Christian threatened a neutral ground but lost the ball on downs. On the next play, the Bruins won their two points on a safety.

Showing plenty of speed and deception, the Bruin varsity chalked up its second victory of the season: its first conference win. The one touchdown margin of victory does not adequately show the superior brand of football the local team displayed. The lone Husky tally was the result of a fumble in the first quarter. In the second half, the northerners were helpless as the local boys bore down in a versatile offense. Jackie Robinson took a punt in the third quarter and ran it sixty-five yards down the field to the Husky five-yard line. Kenny Washington carried the ball over from there and Robinson kicked a goal for the first seven points. The Bruins scored again after Gilmore intercepted a pass in the last minute of the fourth quarter.

Stanford men are amazed as a teammate plays a dirty choke on Robinson

Bad punting and a fighting Stanford team combined to give U.C.L.A. a bad day on the gridiron. Stanford showed in statistics and very nearly came out ahead on the scorecard. After the local shock troops had been routed back in the first quarter, Horrell went in the regular. Robinson immediately rushed the ball fifty-two yards down the field to the Stanford thirty-six yard line. After turning the ball on downs, the Bruins came back in the second quarter to recover an Indian fumble. Five plays later the Bruins scored a touchdown with Overlin carrying the ball with a ten yard run around end. In the third quarter, after a Bruin punt that netted eight yards, Wynne blocked an enemy punter. With three and a half minutes left in the fourth quarter Robinson intercepted a punter's ball and returned it to the enemy eight yard. Cantor and Washington kicked the ball over from Robinson to give the Bruins a lead by kicking the extra

Effective blocking gave Montana kickers time to push the Bruin offensive back in a hole

As a comeback from the previous week's Stanford showing, the Bruin Varsity easily overwhelmed a fighting Montana team. The regulars started the game for the first time this season and made two quick scores in the first quarter. Both touchdowns were made by Kenny Washington; the first followed a sixty-eight yard run. The second score was made from the six yard line. The reserves played the rest of the game, with the exception of a few minutes in the third quarter when the first string rushed in to make another score. Again Washington made the tally, this time on an eleven yard sprint. The conversions were made by co-captain Frawley. Montana's touchdown was made in the waning moments of the fourth quarter when Hudacek plunged over from the one yard line.

Oregon's Webfoot did the work part of the game. The Ducks pushed and pulled the Bruin line, and the great Robinson broke through the line with two terrific under-down thrusts. Oregon made an extra point down in C.L.A. four. Jack Sommers' great center was a star and one of the best linemen in the field. The Ducks' line guard began the scoring by booting an anging field goal for three points. Oregon opened the second period by driving sixty-three yards to their only score. Several days later Washington stood on his own 25 and passed to Robinson on the Oregon 23, who dodged two defensive backs and jugged across the goal. After Sommers and Frawley recovered two Oregon fumbles within the Bruin 10, Robinson took the ball on his 17, and sped eighty-two yards to day dirt.

H O M E C

With the theme "The Babe gets a Bearskin", Homecoming in the 1939 style was a production to rival Hollywood's best. Week-long activities to welcome home the Alumni, to entertain the student body, and to wear out the habitués of Kerckhoff Hall brought many a laugh plus a great loss of sleep. This year's affair was especially marked by the completion of the big C (which managed to stay blue until after the festivities anyway), and the breaking of a habit by the mighty Sophomores when they won the annual brawl from the Freshmen. Of course, the climax, after the coronation of a queen as Queen, came with the parade and bonfire which did not disappoint: for there were females in shorts, males in three-cornered lingerie, and the perennial rose-decorated floats. As soon as the bonfire had behaved as all good bonfires should, the Bruins, Joe and Josephine, trekked to the Men's Gymnasium to jig to the music of Carl Hoff and to be entertained by Bob Hope. Thus, in a blaze of searchlights ended the Bruins' doings except that on Saturday the Babe skinned his Bear, and the Victory Flag was aired once again.

OMING

They don't get around Kenny. Cal man gets nailed trying to circle Strode's end

After a Bruin fumble gave California a one-touchdown lead in the first quarter, the local team came back to outplay completely the Golden Bears. The Bruins showed an ability to go places, even without Jackie Robinson, whose injured knee kept him on the sidelines. Ray Bartlett and Charlie Fenenbock alternated at right half. Kenny Washington rambled 65 yards to give U.C.L.A. its first touchdown. A Washington to MacPherson pass accounted for the opening tally. Another of Washington's passes, this time to Woody Strode, gave the Bruins their third touchdown for a convincing victory. The outstanding line play at the line also stamped them as a different team from the ones they faced at Stanford and Oregon. The Uclans outplayed, outpassed, outcharged, and even out-punted their opponents for a complete triumph.

No Bronco could push Strode around much

A rearing, plunging Bronco came south to meet a slashing, clawing Bruin; honors were even. Highlighting the bruising, scoreless battle were the three main futile scoring drives; two by Santa Clara and one by the Bruins. Santa Clara in the second quarter reached the Bruin two; and again in the third the Broncos got to the nine yard line, where a fourth down field goal try failed. With six minutes to play, the Blue and Gold really rolled when, sparked by Leo Cantor and "Klubbing Kenny" Washington, it moved steam-roller fashion to the Bronco three. There, with five seconds left, a fifteen yard penalty set the Bruins back, and a twenty-eight yard place kick by Jack Sommers fell heartbreakingly short. Pleasant surprise was the continued improvement in Bruin line play. This game was the first of a series to be played with Santa Clara.

Although U.C.L.A. crushingly outplayed Washington State, the Bruins trailed 7-6 for half of the game. The local boys looked tough as they marched eighty-two yards and scored on a Washington-to-Strode aerial. Frawley muffed the attempted conversion. The Cougars surged right back and early in the second quarter they crossed the goal and converted. As playing time diminished in the fourth quarter, the Blue and Gold attack exploded into action. A sustained power-drive took the ball down to the Cougar twenty-five where Washington passed to Robinson for a score that put the Bruins in the lead. Robinson quickly scored again on a thirty-five yard run. In the last minute of play the local reserves scored a touchdown on their own.

More half-time in the Bruin manner; a tribute to Troy

Nave didn't get through every time, but it took a lot of Bruin to stop him

Battling for four scoreless quarters, the Bruins maintained their undefeated record for the year, but were nosed out of the Rose Bowl bid by the conference vote for U.S.C. Repeated fumbling kept the Blue and Gold warriors from getting an offense under way in the first half. The Trojans very nearly scored in the first quarter when a running attack brought the ball down to the one yard line, but Lansdell fumbled there when he was hit by Mathews and Robinson, and Strode recovered in the end-zone for an automatic touchback. For Bruin rooters the game really began when the Bruin fourth-quarter rally produced five successive first downs. Paced by Kenny Washington's passing and running, the ball was brought to the Trojan two yard line. Here, two yards from victory in the Bowl, the advance was stopped and U.C.L.A. lost the ball. Pugged clay on the part of sophomores and juniors in the game heralded a great team for 1940.

Hampered tremendously by a small squad and an avalanche of injuries, Freddie Oster's 1939 Brubabes finished a disastrous season without a victory and were forced to cancel the all-important S.C. game because they couldn't field a full team. The injury jinx started immediately with the first game which the frosh lost to Santa Ana Junior College, 24-0. Six backs, including Leo Meacher and Glen Burns, were lost from the already inadequate squad. Oceanside Junior College tripped the peagreeners in the next game, 16-0, and removed for the season Lapinski, a valuable guard. The Berkeley frosh arrived and for the first half the Brubabes clicked; then the heat and the lack of reserves took their toll, the final score being 41-14 in favor of the northern brothers. Herb Weiner, outstanding end, was injured. The handful of yearlings left invaded the Stanford reservation and met a strong Papoose team that ran roughshod over them to win 41-0. The City College and S.C. games were then cancelled, and the powers above began to think about material for next year.

Compared to other hoop seasons, the 1940 Bruin practice session was mediocre. Due to lack of organized material, Westwood's new casaba mentor, Wilbur Johns, was forced to spend considerable time and strategy in forming suitable combinations to fit adequately his style of play. Inaugurating a system entirely different from that of past years, Johns had to experiment with his men and find the very best combination that would conform to his strategy—that is, making every man eligible for a breakaway. Three sophomores and one junior lettermen returned this year and were bolstered by up and coming freshmen in addition to several experienced junior college transfers. With their new coach, their new silver and blue uniforms and a new outlook on basketball, the Uclan cagers surprised everyone with their constant improvement. With one senior appearing on the team roster, hopes are high for a strong squad next season.

Coach Wilbur Johns and his Bruin hoopsters opened their practice season with the top-ranking San Diego State quintet at San Diego. Dropping the opener, the Bruins recovered sufficiently to nip the Staters the following evening, 31-28. The next week, back at home, a sharp Bruin team defeated the Bank of Americas, 39-38. Then, up in the Bay region, the Johnsmen dropped a tilt to powerful Santa Clara and split a double header with San Jose State. The remaining pre-season games were played in the Westwood gym. First, the Bruins dropped contests to two industrial teams composed of ex-college stars—North American Aircraft and Fox Studios. The final polish was applied in two successive week-end double headers in which the Uclans paired with Loyola and Southern California and played host to California Aggies, New Mexico State, and St. Mary's. The Bruins dropped contests to New Mexico and Loyola and defeated the California Aggies and the St. Mary's five.

From the looks on their faces you would think they had seen a ghost but it was the only way Johnnie Colla and Sandy Cameron could remove the basketball from the possession of an opposing player.

The important series between the California Bears and the Westwood Bruins occurred with both contending for the cellar position. The first evening at Berkeley the Bruins narrowly missed a win, but the second game resulted in the Bruins' first conference win in two and one-half years. The excitement of the first game was a little too much for the local hoopsters, and the Bears eked out a 39-36 victory. The following game reversed the action and the Uclans came through in the last half. This victory marked the beginning of a new spirit among the basketballers. U.C.L.A. had a fighting team that was laying for the Berkeleyites when they came south. Again in the southern series, the Bruins played second fiddle to their foes in the first game, but in the game on the following night they came out fighting mad to blast the Bears 35-33. Robinson pushed through the winning basket.

The U.C.L.A.-Stanford series produced some of the most thrilling Bruin contests of the 1939-40 season. By virtue of their 42-31 upset win over the Indians in the final game of the series, the Bruins broke a four-year jinx held over them by Stanford. The first two games played at Palo Alto resulted in two wins for the Redskins, but not until Jackie Robinson had put 23 points on the board to outscore Don Williams, Stanford ace, for high scoring honors of the evening as well as of the season. The Bruins led the first game by some fifteen points, but the following night Coach Johns teamed up a combination that kept the Indians hustling until the final whistle in order to win the game. Stanford won the Northern series by scores of 53-38 and 40-36. A different light was shed on the subject in the Southern series played at Westwood gym, for the Bruin five played the type of basketball they were capable of playing. The Uclans measured their foes on Friday night losing a close game, 51-42, and then went on to upset them in an overtime thriller the next evening.

Coach Don Ashen's yearling hoopsters, while not winning too many games during the season, accomplished what they set out to do, namely put an end to the S.C. Trobables' long string of victories. A good deal of the team strength was lost by the middle of the season. The starting combination, Ray Chartraw, Bob Perry, John Fryer, Bill Arnot, and Ralph Donnelly was lost from the roster, due to either grades, injuries, or ineligibilities. In spite of these setbacks, Coach Ashen molded a group of second and third stringers into a well balanced team. The locals boasted victories over Glendale J.C., Loyola Frosh, Sacramento J.C., Santa Monica High, Santa Monica Harbor Police, and Santa Monica J.C. Small, speedy Homer Hooker and consistent high point man Tom Pollock held the two forward spots most of the season; Dick Horton, stepping into the pivot position after Fryer was declared ineligible, was a standout on defense and the best tip-in artist on the team; Captain Roger Bozzone and Ralph Donnelly capably filled the important guard positions during the conference season.

Up one week and down the next, Coach Jim Schaeffer's varsity nine made a valiant attempt to stay abreast with the Conference baseball rivals and did manage to beat each team at least once. Rudy Hummes, Sophomore hurling sensation, stole the spotlight for individual play when he almost single-handedly won games for the Bruins with his superb pitching. When he was out of the lineup, the team fell to pieces. Jackie Robinson, in turning down track for baseball, added his name to the records for consistent field play and base running. The squad was far from complete until basketball season was over, for five of the team's strongest players were tied up with basketball duties far into the baseball season. Such players as Bob Null, Ray Bartlett, Jackie Robinson, Clark George and John Colla were highlights on the basketball floor as well as on the grass field. Captain Billy Guyer, Kirk Sinclair and Max Hess, all on the short side, were the leading hitters.

The Bruin baseballs made an impressive start with a victory over Glendale J.C., a decisive win over Pasadena J.C. defeated the City College Cubs 7-3 and finished off the Glendale once again. In their first Conference game with Cal State, the players and two hundred rabid Bruin rooters put an end to the contest with a near riot. The umpire called the game no contest. The Bruins won the next game and went home as the winners of the series. Santa Clara was next up and lost a close one to the locals 12-11. Before leaving for their northward jaunt, the Bruins split the series with the Stanford Indians. While in the Bay region, the Uclans managed to grab off only one victory—that over California. Rudy Hummes and his great hurling stopped the Indians and the Gaels of St. Marys on successive week-ends. St. Marys later slaughtered the Bruins 20-2. All in all the Bruins played a fairly consistent brand of baseball and were right in the running until the final game.

The Brubabes won four out of eight contests, being held to a deadlock by Fairfax High School. The Brubabes started off the season with a bang by winning their first three starts—Southwestern Business School, California Poly and Whittier Frosh. Loyola proved to be too much for the locals and walked away with two victories, 5-2 and 9-6. Several outstanding players were developed and throughout the season showed promise as future varsity material. Nick Angeles, Lynn Compton, Don Britton and Glen Burns, all top prep school material, stood out among their teammates for their sterling play. With a turnout of only eighteen men, Coach Reichle moulded a powerful nine, not only in fielding technique but also in hitting power.

BOAT

Varsity crew at U.C.L.A. increased its prestige this year by trimming the favored Oregon State crew and turning in creditable performances against Sacramento J.C. and California. Four men in the varsity boat rowed their last race for the Bruins against Cal: A. J. Meyer, five; Shelby Cullison, four; Bob Streeton, two; and Ignacio Quejada, bow. Up from last year's frosh were Bud Staley, seven, and Cedric Scudder, six; Stroke Kingston Cable and three-man

Homer Mihm have another year of eligibility. With a strong junior varsity to draw on, Coach Ben Wallis experimented all season to find his best eight man combination to race against Cal. In the finest physical condition any Uclan crew has ever known, the Varsity eight was known for having about the fastest start of any boat on the coast.

A junior varsity that often whipped the varsity in time trials gave Coach Wallis a strong squad to work with. The jayvee acquitted itself well in vanquishing the Compton J.C. varsity and pushing hard in the wake of the Oregon State and Cal shells. All j.v. men with the exception of Pease and Milledge will be rowing again next year. Individual competition for seats in the varsity shell was so strong throughout the season that Ben Wallis was kept busy playing checkers with the men in the two boats.

The varsity eight, resting after its victory, allowed the Beavers to take their shell in first

FRESH BOAT

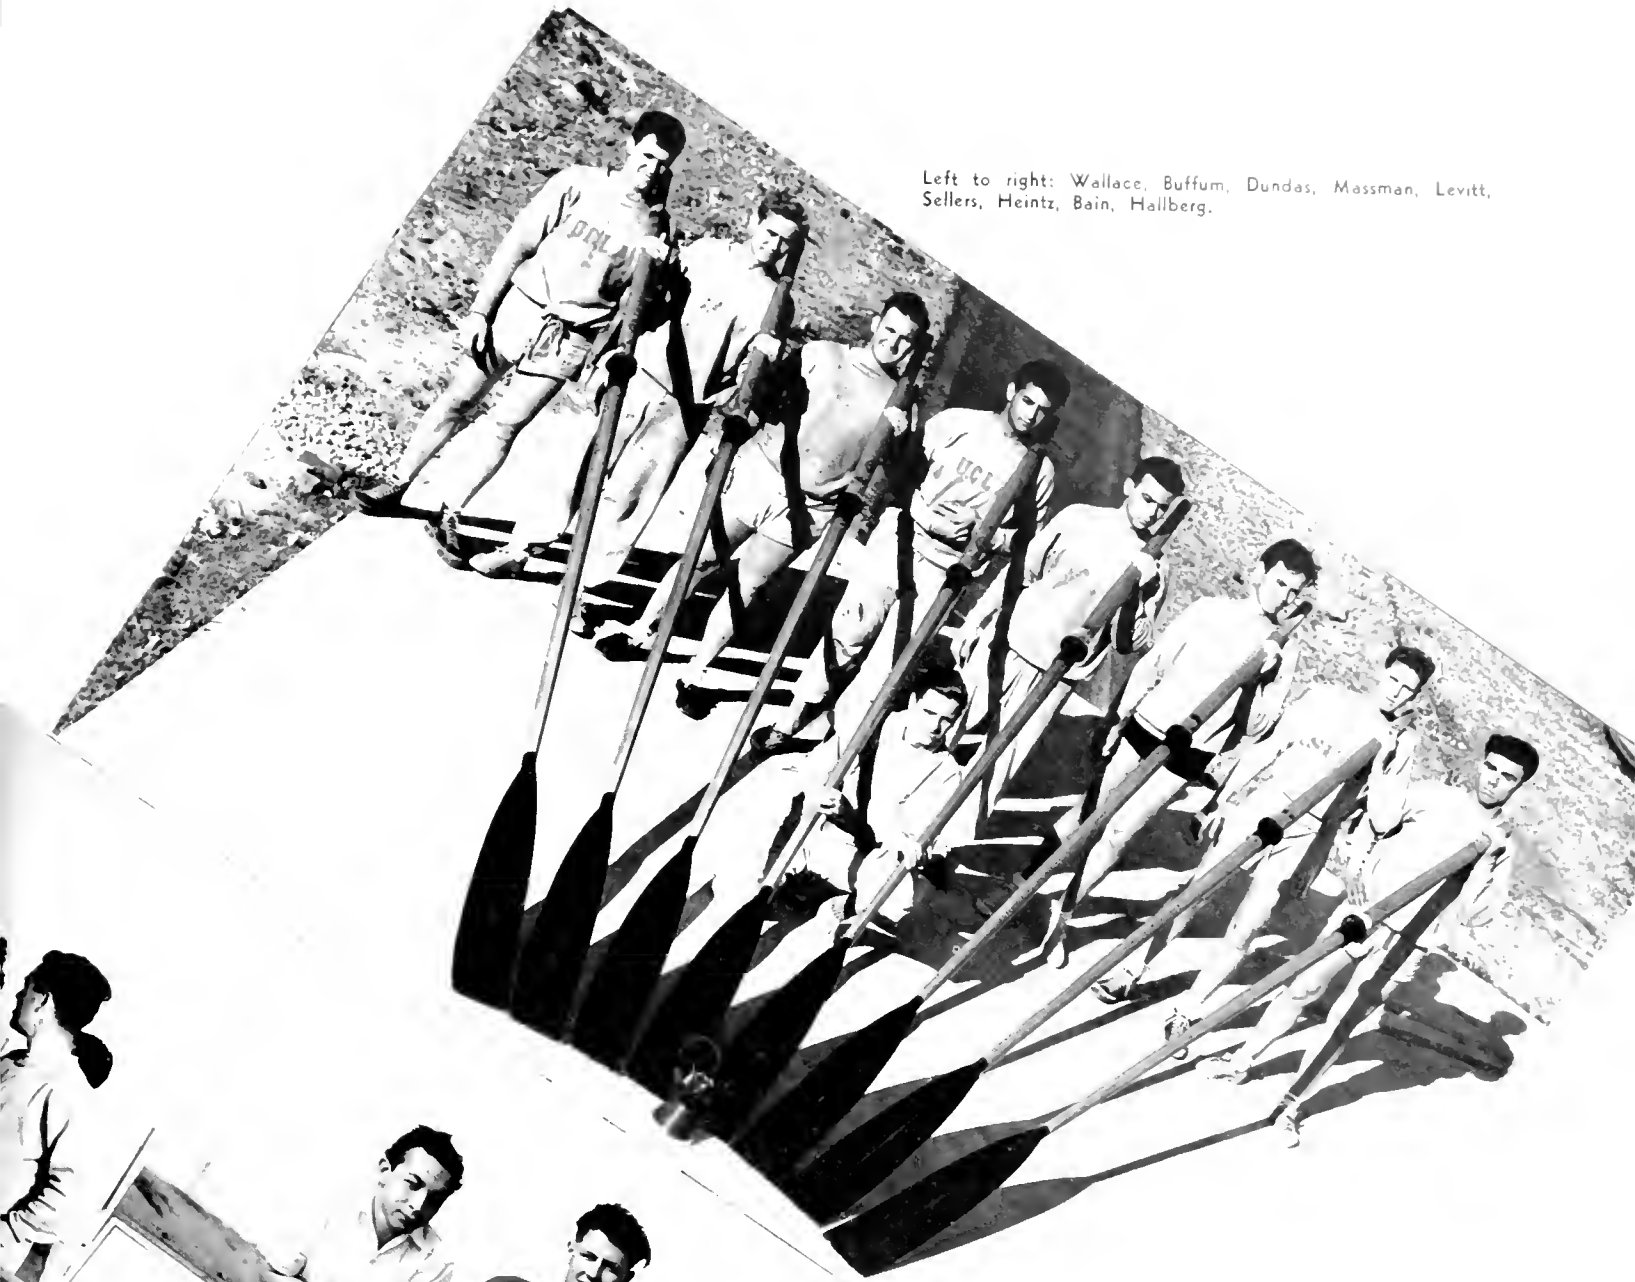

The class of '43 put on the water the strongest freshman crew that the school has seen in four years. Ineligibilities kept the frosh from racing more than one shell during the season. First race on the schedule was with the second boat from Sacramento J.C. which finished little more than a deck's length ahead of the unseasoned frosh. The yearlings showed their mettle later in the season in winning by two lengths over the Compton J.C. varsity, rowing on the Compton course at Long Beach. Schooled in the fundamentals of rowing by Pete Hall, the frosh oarsmen developed to the point where they rivaled the varsity in speed and effort, if not in form and power. The freshman boat averaged 169 pounds, with Captain Neal Dundas, a power plant at either five or six, tipping the scales at 190. The two promising frosh coxswains are expected to replace the varsity and j.v. helmsmen who are graduating. Having displayed a great deal of spirit for their first experience in the sport, the whole boatload of freshmen is expected to report next year.

1940 just wasn't U.C.L.A.'s year on the tennis courts. A spirited but inexperienced varsity found potent, star-studded squads from Berkeley, Palo Alto, and Figueroa Street to be in another class. The Bruins lost six out of six Coast Conference matches. Preparing for its disastrous conference season, U.C.L.A.'s racket-twirlers matched practice strokes with five other Southern California teams beginning in February. Coach Bill Ackerman's men in white outpointed Redlands University, 6-4; Cal Tech., 8-4; Pepperdine College, 4-2; while taken to the cleaners by U.C.L.A. alumni, 1-11; L.A. Tennis Club, 0-9.

A long stretch, a backhand drive, and a good follow through rated Gordon a good shot. Of course J. D. Morgan's concentration helped the ball over the net

In the far corner we have Captain Norton Beach waiting for Bartell's ace. Hope this one is good because the first one was in the net

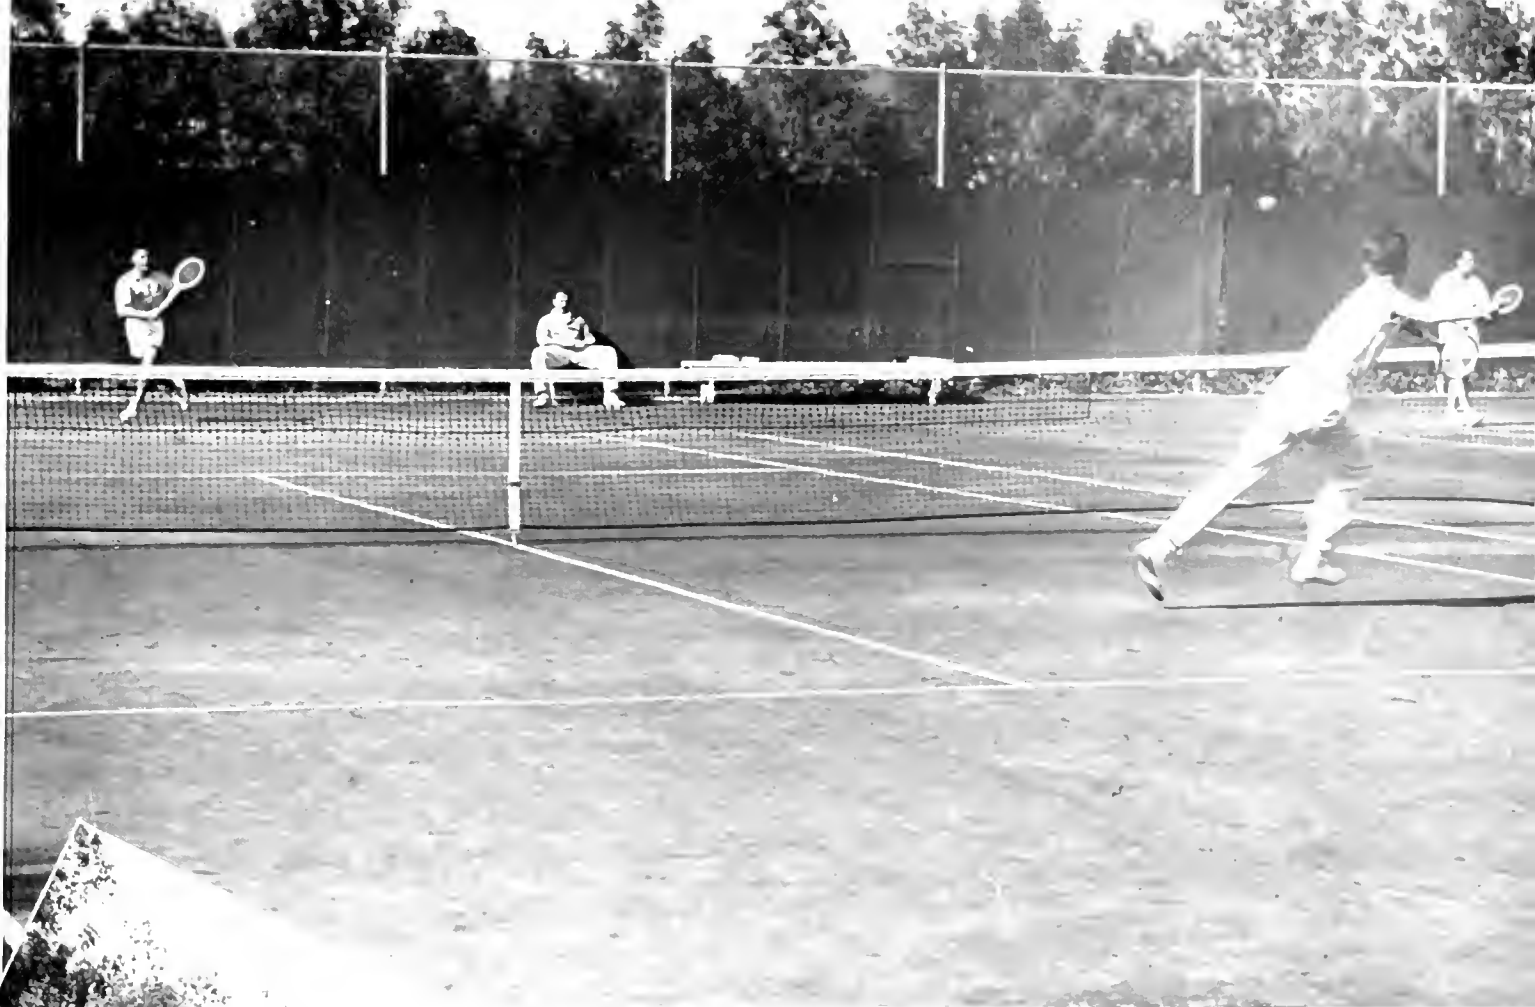

Our own local courts were the scene of the matches when Stanford paid us a visit. Seavers and Brock are two good reasons why we took such a beating

In the same Stanford series U.C.L.A.'s Kristo Sugich and Tony Prodan were paired for one of the doubles matches. Sugich is poised for a ferocious forehand drive

U.C.L.A. tennismen took the severest setback in many a season when a barnstorming Stanford team blanked the local lads 9-0. In a return engagement a week later in Palo Alto the Bruins did a little better in losing to the Indian power-house 2-7. Sam Fox, playing at fifth singles out-fought Stanford Captain Dave Brock, 6-4, 2-6, 6-1. The other win came in convincing fashion in the first doubles match when lanky, smooth-stroking Bob Stanford, and cool-headed Alex Gordon pulled an upset in taking Redskins Stan Owens and Bob Low, 6-1, 6-0.

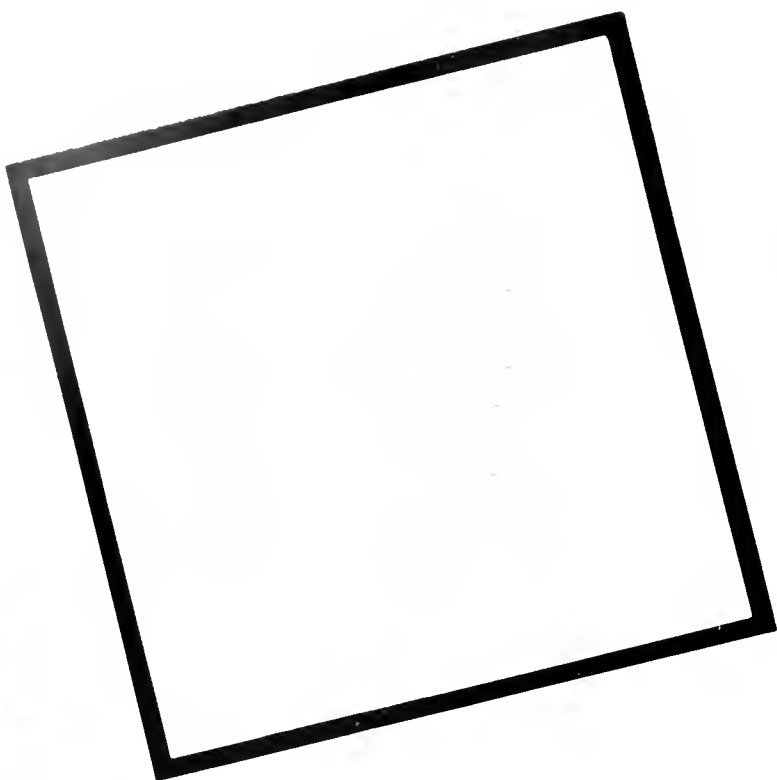

Dean Ackerman in action on the courts at The Bruins tennis center.

In losing their last two matches, the Bruins did not give the conference champion Trojans a harder time than they indicate. The fighting Uclans breeched the Bruins' defense on the Westwood courts 6-1, but forced four of the nine matches to three sets in addition to the lone win of a margin of one game on clay. Alex Gordon and J. D. Morgan, both of whom Bob Stanford is the hero of the second series with the Bruins, were able to prevent the Bruins from a blank day, however. George Toley, in the other matches, Ackerman's boys were not able to give the conference Trojan champs much to worry about.

A smooth-stroking, well-coordinated 1940 freshman tennis team had the winning punch the varsity couldn't find and breezed through the usual aggregation of nine Southern California junior colleges and high schools with but one setback. Coach Ackerman's yearlings went on to polish off U.S.C.'s frosh in their only conference matches, 8-1 and 9-0. Pacing the Brubabe outfit were some of the best prospective varsity material in the history of Westwood tennis. Number one singles spot was held down by Jean Feigunbaum, and number two by Captain Sidney White. Milo Frank and Angelo Christoff, a pair of steady lads, shared the number three and four singles assignments. Señor Bruin, due for one of the greatest track years in his history, got one setback after another until his record for 1940 looks little more than mediocre. Ineligibility, failure of second and third place strength to materialize, and the comparative failure of ranking men to come through proved too much of a barrier to success. Captain Carl McBain, potentially one of the greatest hurdlers on the coast, finally hit his stride in the Stanford meet, winning the lows in 23.7. Hal Sinclair, colored sprinter, gained confidence in himself rapidly, winning both dashes against California and the 220 against Stanford. The broadjumping trio of Schilling, Lacefield, and Turner brought that sparkle to Coach Trotter's eye more than once. Bradley and Wyatt were outstanding in the middle distances. Hoeger in the shotput, Edinger in the pole vault, Schoaf in the high jump, and Shaughnessey with his javelin could always be counted on for points.

M E E T

The track season got under way with a victory, against a weak Arizona team, with U.C.L.A. scoring 81½ to Arizona's 49½. Schilling and Turner tied in the broad jump at 23' 8", and McBain won the low hurdle race in 23.7. Next came the Southern California Athletic Association. Tom Bradley ran a 49 second quarter and a relay team showed its potentialities in a fast win. The Bruins played host the next week to a mighty Golden Bear team, and despite Sinclair's double win, Edinger's vault of 13' 6", and Lacefield's first in the broad jump, the score sheet looked rather lopsided: U.C.L.A., 39; California, 92. Leaving the southland next, the Bruins met a strong Stanford contingent at Palo Alto and fared little better. Feature of the meet was the relay. The Stanford boys led all the way but were pushed to a new world's record of 3:10.5.

Edinger's vaults didn't make him famous, but they always added points to the Uclan score

Captain Carl McBain finally proved in competition this year that he was one of the best hurdlers on the coast

Since high jumping was not U.C.L.A.'s long suit, the usual Bruin quota in the event was one place

Displaying strength in several events the 1940 Bruin Frosh went through its season with four wins and three losses. Outstanding by virtue of his 49' 5" effort in the shot put as well as for his status of high-point man of the squad was big Mario Russo. Competing in both shot put and discus, Russo rarely missed winning both. Also outstanding was little Kenny Boyd, distance man whose year's efforts were high-lighted by a 1:58.2 half mile in the Long Beach J.C. encounter. Duke and Kaiser were consistent point winners in the sprints, giving promise of materially strengthening the 1941 varsity in those events. Coach "Ducky" Drake was more than pleased with the work of Maggard who averaged better than 12' 6" in the pole vault. Diez, despite a leg injury which hampered him all season, turned in several creditable wins in the low hurdles. Miller, in the high hurdles, and Johnston in the discus, placed consistently. Outstanding meet of the year was the Inglewood High fray which found the Frosh taking every first place but one. The yearlings will be a welcome addition to next year's varsity.

Regular league play found the Bruins with a 4-3 victory over Loyola, along with 0-0 and 3-3 ties and a 1-5 defeat. L.A.A.C. proved a tougher foe by beating the locals. Even harder to take were the losses dealt by the Trojans, ultimate league champs, who swept the series 4-2, 7-1, and 5-2. Santa Rosa J.C., northern champs, won a post-season game 5-1. Participating in the Yosemite Intercollegiate Ski meet as well as meets held at Donner Pass and at Mount Baldy, the Ski Team, captained by Charles Melhorn, who was hampered by injuries early in the season, was disappointed in its championship hopes. Lew Danielson, an outstanding Freshman from Montana and number one man on the team has been chosen as captain for next year. Other strong hopes for the season were Charles "Muddy" Watters and Wolfgang Kessler. The team weakness lay in slalom and cross country.

The Blue and Gold handball team came through with a comparatively successful season by virtue of breaking out of the loss column for the first time in several seasons. Defeats this year were again numerous, including losses of 0-4 and 1-3 to the Hollywood Y, 0-4 and 1-3 to the L.A. Y., by the same scores to the Elks Club, and 1-3 to the Pasadena Athletic Club. Wins, came at the expense of the San Diego Y and the Long Beach Y. Both teams were held to 2-2 ties as well as being defeated by 3-1 scores. In the only collegiate game the team defeated the Bruins 8-1.

This year's grunts and groans provoked more than a few expressions from their fans. Leading off with U.C.L.A.'s victory over the L.A. Athletic Club, the Bruins went on to defeat Whittier, the 160th Infantry and other teams in practice matches. Cal was defeated 13-14 by virtue of the Bruin wins turned in by Thomas, Drooz, Latta, and Micks. Cal reversed the decision by winning the Conference meet with 29 points to 27 for the Westwood team. One point victories were piled out over Fullerton J.C. and Sherman Institute in the Southern California A.A.U. and Intercollegiate meets.

Captain Bob Ortwin and Sam McCulloch combined to lead the cricket team in winning over Venice 131-83, thus continuing with last year's unbeaten season. The highly touted Hollywood Club was bowled over 90-47 in a game featuring the skill of the Bruin bowlers Peter Kinnel, McCulloch, and Ortwin, and the fielding of Lee Bigler. A long series of victories was brought to an end when the Corinthian Cricket Club upset the team 120-84. The Blue and Gold banner resumed its victory march when the L. A. Cricket Club could score only 90 points to 91 for seven wickets for the Bruins.

Pomona College offered the first competition of the golf season, and was handed a $1\frac{1}{2}$ to $8\frac{1}{2}$ defeat as thanks for playing host to the Bruin team. Garson of U.C.L.A. turned in the best individual score with a 69 for a par 70 course. Santa Monica J.C. was the next victim, losing 1 to 8. Conference competition proved to be somewhat tougher, as witnessed by the Stanford score of $25\frac{1}{2}$ to $1\frac{1}{2}$ over the visiting Bruins. The Big Bear of the North was somewhat more lenient, being satisfied with a $20\frac{1}{2}$ to $1\frac{1}{2}$ victory. Though never lenient, the Trojans were not so impregnable, beating the locals 12 to 6.

Paced by Bill Kuehne and Devere Christensen, the swimming team had little difficulty in submerging Compton J.C. 41-34 and Pasadena J.C. 45-29. This same pair of natatore were undefeated in the sprints throughout the season. Kuehne set new Bruin records in both the 50 and 100 yard dashes. The superior strength of the Texas Longhorns in the other events brought the invading Southerners a 46-28 triumph. A record-breaking relay team composed of Shaw, Glasband, Kuehne, and Christensen provided the margin of victory in the 41-34 win over Cal. Stanford defeated the Bruins 38-37.

Victories to the sharpshooting Westwood team came from all corners of the nation. College teams from almost every state, as well as Hawaii, wired in their scores only to find their Bruin foes with more imposing totals. This unblemished record applied both to the Varsity and R.O.T.C. matches. Medals were awarded to the outstanding members with Howard Boblet receiving the gold medal. Truex and Smith were awarded silver medals, with bronze trophies going to Ackley, Golden, Stephens, Gleason, Rhine, Menard, Preston, Brown, Kirkland, Heaton, Michaelson, and Rayburn.

U.C.L.A.'s feint-and-thrust artists used these same tactics to good advantage in winning all their dual meets. Emerman won all his sabre bouts to lead his team to a 14-12 victory over L.A. City College. The Cubs later went down before the onslaught of Larry Laughlin and his cohorts. Laughlin won all his sabre and foil bouts to aid materially in the 13-10 win. Ably supported by Captain Bob Oblath and Don Emerman, this Bruin iron-man paved the way to two successive victories over S.C. In the Southern Division Championships, Cal and S.C. relegated the locals to third place.

A short season ended with the Bruins two down and one up. The slugfest with Stanford ended 3-2 in favor of the locals. Torres, Van Gelder, and Woolweber defeated their foes to bring about the season's only victory. Against the always potent Cal Aggies, Woolweber's draw and Swan's victory gave the team $1\frac{1}{2}$ points to $5\frac{1}{2}$ for the husky farmers. The Golden Bears handed their brother maulers an overwhelming defeat. Hal Tolin provided the one victory of the 8-1 score.

One of the highlights of Bruin sports was the brilliant showing made by the gym team. Marred only by a 40-41 loss to L.A.C.C., the records show a series of easy victories over collegiate foes. The Trojans of S.C. were defeated in two encounters, 76-10 and 70-16. In the conference meet they won with 116 points to 79½ for Cal and 23½ for S.C. Next to bow before the mighty Bruins were the highly rated Aztecs of San Diego, who were outmuscled 75-5. Captain Bruce Connor, Bill Corwin, Harry Yarrow, Russell Bidwell, and John Campbell were standouts in every meet.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Intramural competition gave the tongs ample cause to rally to the support of their organizations. Theta Delta Chi won the tong battle, but were defeated by the Blanks for the all-University crown. Phi Kappa Psi and the Butchers met to determine the school champs in basketball, with the non-orgs emerging victorious. Theta Delta Chi won its second crown in volleyball, and made the triumph complete by defeating the Physical Education Club. Phi Gamma Delta led the S.A.E.'s by a close margin to annex the track meet. Theta Xi bowled over Phi Kappa Sigma to win in bowling.

JOE AND

Phi Delt's Dan O'Flaherty and Jim Devere and Beta Orv Clarke are happy about something at the Junior Prom. Someone probably burned a hole in the table cloth. Note the adoring look Jim's getting.

Ooh! this is too terrible to describe. What's the matter with Barbara Tesche? Don Brown looks solicitous, but it doesn't seem to help at all

Tracy Moore looks sour, somebody looks sad, and Norton Beach looks surprised, while Dorothy Halliday dimples at Johnny Wardlaw. All this went on at the Junior Prom.

The annual Interfraternity Ball, held this year at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel, brought added prestige to U.C.L.A. when it was broadcast from coast to coast on a national hookup, with Hank McCune as master of ceremonies. The festivities went on in both the Florentine and Gold Rooms of the hotel. Those who arrived early danced to Ray Noble in the Florentine Room; those who got there after nine o'clock pushed into the Gold Room, and danced to a hill-billy orchestra, much to their disgust. A later formal affair, the Junior Prom, held on April 19, with theme based on UCLA's so-called "country club" reputation, featured the music of Carl Ravazza. At this affair one of the famous country club "convertible coupes" was given away, a model T Ford.

The moguls of the Interfraternity Ball, Carter Crall, who was responsible for the dance, and Julian Blodgett, president of the Council, gab with one another while Dolly beams approvingly.

Spike Honig rests his weary head on a pretty shoulder at the Junior Prom. He's just pretending he's tired, we think. The others are too engrossed to notice.

Bottom: Oblivious to everyone but herself, including Bill Anderson, her partner, Beth Anne struggles to retain modesty, but the odds seem to be against her

Top: Look at the birdie! They did, and look at the results. It couldn't have been that funny

Other dancers are too polite to notice girl at far left—gad what agony

Bottom: Pledge dance at the Alpha Gam House. At least one couple didn't notice the congestion

Center: A collage of photographs showing the popularity of the dance. George Bliss agrees.

Once in a while you gotta do some dancing. But when? and where? From time to time throughout the year the fraternities and sororities give informal dances, which are supplemented by other all-university dances such as Bruin jigs, Christmas dance, and the AWS-AMS dance. At certain times during the year, notably around elections, many of the organizations hold open houses, to create through the medium of entertainment and refreshment a favorable prejudice towards their candidates.

YOU'VE DO SOME

Top: Crossed sabres make an impressive setting for the charming honorary colonel, Helen Hay

Center: Not to be outdone by the soldiers, the sailors also went social, at their annual Navy ball

Bottom: Intermission time finds guests at the Navy ball making a reconnaissance of the situation

Even the business-like Army and Navy men like to relax once in a while, and dancing seems to be a favorite way. Outstanding traditional affair has always been the Scabbard and Blade Formal, held this year at the Riviera Country Club. Feature of the evening was the tapping of new members of Scabbard and Blade and the introduction of Helen Hay as Honorary Colonel. The Navy unit also gave a ball, and this Navy dance bids fair to become a prominent event in University society. In April the Pershing Rifles and Conning Tower combined to give a very successful formal, also at the Riviera Club.

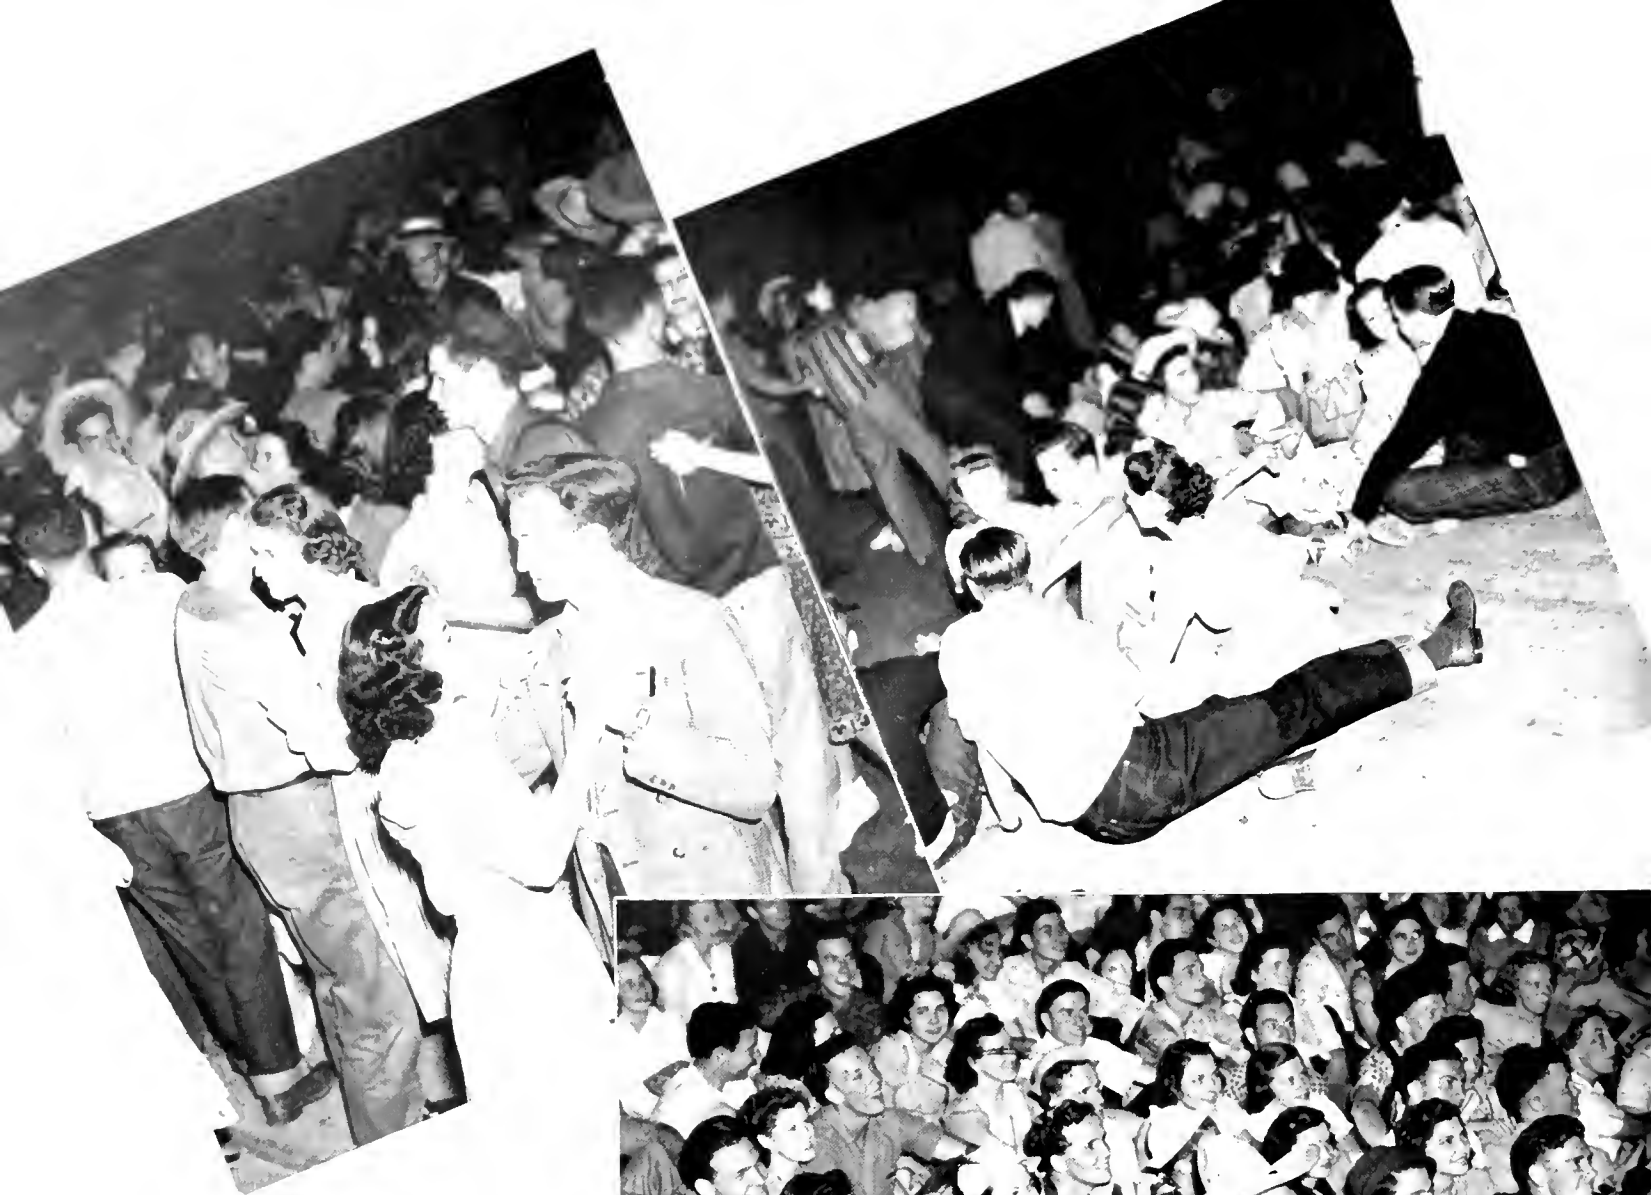

Footballer Don MacPherson and A.M.S. prexy "Pudgy" Padgett look pretty in their newly-pressed uniforms. Rosemary Fleming doesn't look too happy—wonder why?

Dick Pryne goes through the arch at Scabbard and Blade. The lack of uniforms is astounding.

Bottom: Doesn't seem to be orders from the front. Everyone looks too happy

Zan Ballsun waited at least five minutes for the photog to take this picture, with the above results. Don't people look silly sometimes?

Second childhood comes as seniors and juniors relax on the floor at the Frosh-Soph Barn Dance. Whoops! May Jo Funk is a soph, isn't she?

From the looks of this, the Barn Dance was a howling success. Most everyone looks happy, a few pensive. What's the matter, Pris?

Every year finds barn dances still the most popular features in the way of entertainment a la informal on campus. Smartly dressed coeds and dapper stags like to transform themselves every-so-often into hillbilly hayseeds and hicks. Some barn dances are held in the woods.

(Beware coeds!) Others are held in just plain old barns with hay and stuff. Traditional barn dances find the Kappas at Whiting Woods, the Kappa Sigs in their own back yard, in their own barn, too, believe it or not, and the Theta Chis also have . . . but why go on? Common sense says that all the Greeks on campus ought to be thoroughly nauseated at the thought of them. But they aren't.

WE LET OUR

See the happy little morons, and notice the maniacal glee on everyone's face. Morris Parry seems to be doing a bit of knifing behind his pal's back.

Monte Steadman looks lovely, but Mary Boynton's eyes and the camera clicked at the same time, with disastrous results. There's Anderson again, looking really ugly.

Left: The Kappa Sig barn dance was a real brawl. The photographer was very surprised when this picture came out all right.

That glorious affair, the annual Fresh-Soph Barn Dance, was held this year at the Little Verdugo Club Barn (or something like that). Music was furnished by a real 'risterkrat-hatin' Feather Merchant band, and intermission entertainment was due mainly to the valiant efforts of Jim Zastro, John Lindgren, and ex-veller Johnny Vrba, whose attempts to win various and sundry prizes (including a lovely hot water bottle) were the source of much amusement and comment. The night was perfect, so only about half the farmers present were dancing at any one time, which was fortunate because the place was really packed. This was strange, because nobody knew where the place was or how they ever got there.

HAIR DOWN

WE SING AWAY THOSE LONELY BLUES

Top: Ray Noble and Kay Kyser, top-notch orchestra leaders, who appeared at the same sing, much to the delight and surprise of the 2000 students, get together to compare notes

Left: After lying dormant for some time, Royce Hall Tonight was revived. This skit presented by Uclans proved as popular as most of the big name performers

Right: The International Hot Club, Woody Strode, Bob Wai, and Lenny Safir, accompanies Martha Tilton. It was hard to decide whether Strode or Tilton was more popular

The audience is enjoying the Chee-chee-chee girl's enjoying herself. The thought of appearing before a university audience holds no qualms for her.

The most popular on-campus social affairs are the all-University Sings, which during the past season have played to full houses, and then some, with students banging on the doors for admittance during half the entertainment. Much credit is due Hank McCune, chairman of the music and service board. Hank is responsible for the appearance of such big-time names as Kay Kyser, Ray Noble, Glen Gray, Muzzy Marcelino, Will Osborne, Gaylord Carter, Lionel Hampton, and UCLA's own Pat Freiday.

Wai stands out while his trio takes the spotlight

Bottom: Hmm. He didn't talk that long to me

Semi-annually after formal pledging each sorority presents its pledges to the campus at a tea dance. Formals and corsages are in order for the pledge line; while one fraternity on campus dared to follow this custom, with the boys not wearing formal gowns. No, they wore dinner jackets, blue jeans, and vegetable corsages. Customarily, presents are held from four until six in the afternoon when students are more likely to be free from classes. This is open season for the boys, who shop around from house to house and look over likely dating prospects for future wives. The girls who stand in the pledge lines usually describe themselves as "reflexive." Besides, the actives usually have the edge on the eligibles, at least when it comes to the eligible males.

THE BOYS LOOK 'EM OVER

Those popular insects on a dance floor—jitterbugs

There is only one prerequisite for the W.A.A. Recreational's energy—energy to play badminton, ping pong, volleyball, box hockey, and pin bowling. Then when a state of ice sets in, moreover, there is swimming and dancing. And if it is still possible to laugh, nothing is more humorous than a 225 pound football guard swaying grandfully in all directions and sections to the scorching music of a polka. In plain language, these things are a lot of fun. They provide a tree of entertainment that is not available anywhere else, and the success of the program has resulted in their continuation throughout the year and even on into summer months. Just to be taken before an important quiz.

Alpha Chi Omega was organized on the campus of De Pauw University at Greencastle, Indiana, and the Alpha Psi chapter was established at U.C.L.A. in 1926. Founded originally as a music sorority, it has continued to aid in the field of creative art by maintaining the Star Studio at the MacDowell Colony in Peterboro, New Hampshire. This institution affords the struggling writer, singer, or painter a quiet, secluded spot in which to study at almost no expense. Numbering many prominent women among its members, the sorority is especially proud of Dorothy Thompson, Gladys Swarthout, and Mrs. Edward MacDowell. Socially the local chapter has been very active and every fall holds its biggest dance in the Blossom Room of the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel.

To bind acquaintanceship was the main factor in the founding of Alpha Epsilon Phi at Barnard College. The local chapter, Phi, came to this campus in 1924, and has well lived up to the standards of the national in its philanthropic work. Main in this field were the formal ball held for the benefit of the Cripple Children's Ward of the Mt. Sinai Hospital and the complete Christmas party given to the Julia Ann Singer Day Nursery. The first of these affairs was attended by 500 couples and was held in the Fiesta Room of the Ambassador Hotel. The chapter, headed this year by Reba Blustein Cohen, has had a successful administration and feels amply repaid for its efforts.

It was at Syracuse University that Alpha Gamma Delta held its first meeting to organize the social sorority that established its Delta Epsilon chapter on this campus in 1925. Interested in several charities the house places the most emphasis on the maintenance of two summer camps for underprivileged children: one in Jackson, Michigan, and the other in Welland, Ontario. Several prominent women, Sarah Henderson Hay, Agnes Newton Keith, and P. Mabel Nelson, have belonged to and aided the Alpha Gams in this work. Socially minded also, the local chapter always climaxes its social season with a well attended Rose Banquet.

Founded at Syracuse University in 1872, Alpha Phi is by way of being one of the oldest sororities in the U. S. Locally, the Beta Delta chapter was installed in 1924, and has since become a prominent factor in campus activities. Testifying to the standards of Alpha Phi national membership are women of such prominence as Anna Roosevelt Boettiger, and Frances Willard. Local chapter activities take in the social and altruistic lines of work: socially, two formal dances, a pair of pledge affairs, and a costume ball head the list; charitably, the largest benefit was a Fun House Party held to raise money for the needy children of Sawtelle. Other interests led to a Mothers' Day Breakfast and monthly Faculty Dinners.

In Macon, Georgia, on the campus of Wesleyan Female College, Alpha Delta Pi became the first women's secret fraternity. Aid to needy students is the pet charity of the A D Pis with the Abigail Davis Student Loan Fund. The U.C.L.A. chapter appeared in 1925, and the standards of Alpha Delta Pi have been adhered to religiously. One of the reasons for the Alpha Chi chapter's loyalty to these principles has been in order to live up to the quality of the national's membership, for it includes women such as Florence George, Dr. Sara Branham, Elizabeth Love, and Mrs. Walter D. Lamar. On the social side, the Alpha Chi chapter has had an active season. Entertained by the alumnae with a bridge tea at the Victor Hugo that included both the S.C. and U.C.L.A. chapters, the house has filled the rest of the time with two formal dances, several buffet suppers, and a goodly number of house dances.

In spreading to over 44 campuses since its inception at Barnard College, Alpha Omicron Pi came here with its Kappa Theta chapter in 1925. With such well-known feminine personalities as Mary Ellen Chase, Margaret Bourke-White, Margaret Tallichet, and Helen Gahagan on its rolls the sorority can well be proud of its alumnae. Plus turning out these leaders, the house's charitable work among the backwoods communities of Kentucky has brought it much favorable attention. On this campus, the local chapter upholds the standards of the national in the altruistic field, and maintains an active social life as evidenced by its semi-annual formal dances, which, led by Priscilla Pierce, have been very successful this past year.

The first meeting of the Beta Phi Alpha took place at U.C.B. on May 8, 1909. The object of that meeting was to found, from a small nucleus of chosen women, a group to meet a housing need at Berkeley. From that idea, the organization grew into a social sorority with the object of promoting scholarship, friendship, and a more rounded social life. On Beta Phi Alpha's membership list are to be found the names of such feminine leaders as Alice Hanson Jones, Anna Ratzberger, Violet E. Kearney, and Frances Klamp. Reorganizing locally this year, the house has not had a great deal of time for other activities, but has been able to extend the organization's aid to a Summer Camp Fund and to their own Mary Gordon Scholarship Fund.

Here on the University of California at Los Angeles' campus a sorority to fill a very definite need was formed. This organization, Chi Alpha Delta, is a house devoted exclusively to women students of Japanese heritage. Fully as active as many a larger group, Chi Alpha Delta has aided in the University's altruistic work plus assisting the Japanese Children's Home and sponsoring a Student's Scholarship Fund. A well-filled social calendar completes the program; an Orientation Tea for all new Japanese women students, a pledge dance and dinner, formal initiation dances, and a Charter Day Dinner.

Since the first assembling of founders at Lombard University in Galesburg, Illinois, Alpha Xi Delta has gathered to itself some 55 chapters. The U.C.L.A. chapter came into the fold in 1924. Actively engaging in aiding needy students, the organization supports several scholarship funds: The Founders' Memorial Scholarship Loan Fund and The Grace Ferris Memorial Scholarship Fund. Harriet Leula McCallum is one of the alumnae of whom the house is very proud, and Pat Frieday is the show-piece of the local chapter. Led this year by Beryl Corbin, the Alpha Xi Delta social season was highlighted by the annual Rose Ball and the Founders' Day Banquet and Dance, both of which turned out to be well attended and well planned affairs.

Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, served as the scene for the first meeting of Delta Zelta in 1902. On the sorority's rolls are the names of numerous prominent women: Dean Helen Laughlin, Gail Patrick, Leslie Ford, and Princess Martha of Norway. In 1925 the local chapter, Alpha Chi, was initiated, and here has upheld the principles and ideals of the national in aiding the charitable work of the house. This work, the maintenance of an entire community at Vest, Kentucky, brings advantages for health and education to the underprivileged there. On a social scale, the organization has been very active with a Winter Formal at the Victor Hugo, a Rose Formal in the Spring, and various and assorted house dances.

The founders of Chi Omega on the University of Arkansas campus made their goal a sorority to show no geographical discrimination; the first to do so since the Civil War. Nationally, the house has on its rolls such leading women as Judge Georgia Bullock, Mabel Walker Willebrant, and Laura Krey. Here Chi Omega initiated its Gamma Beta chapter in 1923 on petition of the local sorority, Phi Kappa Gamma. In keeping with the standards of philanthropic work Chi Omega conducts the Toy Loan Library at the Assistance League in Los Angeles. This activity, coupled with the house's dances and other affairs, is the type of thing that enables the organization to maintain its prestige on campus.

Established at Oxford School, Mississippi, Delta Gamma is one of the first social sororities in the United States. This campus' Alpha Sigma chapter, since its inception in 1925, has aided the national in maintaining the Nursery School for Visually Handicapped Children. Noted among the members are Ruth Bryan Owen, Gracia Countryman, and Lois M. Rosenberry. Locally, the sorority is well known for its social activity. Notable in this line is the annual D.G.-Delt Ball, a formal dance put on jointly by Delta Gamma and Delta Tau Delta. Also heading the social calendar is their Christmas party and dance held every year at the chapter house and one of Los Angeles' better night spots. Capably leading Alpha Sigma chapter this year was Frances Johnson.

The first chapter of Delta Delta Delta was organized at Boston University, and the Theta Pi chapter was formed here in 1925. Maintenance of a scholarship fund for graduate study abroad is the national philanthropy while the U.C.L.A. chapter endeavors to make the burden of the patients in the Orthopedic Hospital lighter. Standing out on the membership lists of Tri-Delt are feminine personalities such as Lila Bell Acheson, Mrs. Henry Wallace, and Doris Bowden. One of the leaders in the social parade, Delta Delta Delta holds both a winter and a spring formal besides a higher than average number of informal affairs. The house, led this year by Jeanne de Garmo has been active in all campus political and scholastic fields.

Syracuse University was the scene of the first meeting of Gamma Phi Beta, and there the purposes of the sorority were declared: scholarship, service, and social and cultural advancement. Leading the parade of Gamma Phi Beta women are Aileen Higgins Sinclair, Margaret Wilson, Charlotte Kellogg, Gertrude Comfort Sinclair, and Maude Loveless. Since coming to this campus in 1924, the Alpha Iota chapter has actively entered into all branches of university life. Especially well known are their social functions headed this year by Louise Gulstrand. On the list are such affairs as the Orchid Ball, a benefit for underprivileged children; the Crescent Dance, a celebration of the founding of the organization; and the Circus Dance, a party given by the pledges.

Betty Locke Hamilton founded Kappa Alpha Theta at De Pauw University, Greencastle, Indiana, as the first sorority among women to use Greek letters in its name. In a roll call of Kappa Alpha Theta, responses would be obtained from such leading figures as Margaret Mitchell, Agnes de Mille, Irene Taylor Heineman, and Helen Jacobs. The local chapter, Beta Xi, was organized in 1925 from the Sigma Alpha Kappa sorority. Philanthropically, the house annually takes some of the needy children from Sawtelle and gives them a merry Christmas of dinner and presents for all afterwards. Known as one of the most active of the social sororities, the Thetas throw their biggest dance every Spring in strictly formal attire. Besides this yearly ball, there is the Founders' Day Banquet attended by the combined Southern California chapters and a procession of exchange dinners, alumnae teas, and faculty dinners.

In November of 1913 on the campus of Hunter College in New York, Phi Sigma Sigma was organized for the purpose of furthering social and charitable activities. The national organization sponsors, besides its fraternal duties, a great deal of charitable work. It contributes to the National Jewish Fund and the Student Refugee Fund in addition to assisting various local agencies in the East. At U.C.L.A., Phi Sigma Sigma was the first national sorority to establish a chapter. That was in 1921, and since that date the house has maintained the spirit of the founding principles. In this respect it has aided in the support of United Jewish Welfare Fund and the Julia Ann Singer Nursery. On the social side are affairs like the annual Charity Ball, the Patroness Teas, and Mothers' and Fathers' affairs.

Kappa Delta was established at Virginia State Normal School in 1897 and locally in 1926 after granting a charter to a local sorority, Kappa Psi Zeta. Since its inception, the Kappa Deltas have had not a few prominent women on their rolls; a fair cross-sample of whom would be Pearl Buck, Helen Claire, and Georgia O'Keefe. At U.C.L.A. the house has combined social activity with philanthropic work by the holding of benefits. Among these could be listed the annual Shamrock Shindig held in April and the KD Benefit Bridge put on every year by the S.C. and U.C.L.A. chapters in the Biltmore Bowl. Besides these affairs, there is the Senior Breakfast served the morning of the Baccalaureate Service.

The origin of Phi Mu took place on the campus of Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia, but it was in 1904 that it adopted its present Greek letter name. Biggest event on the house's calendar in 1939 was the absorption of Alpha Delta Theta, a former national sorority. As one of the oldest women's groups, Phi Mu naturally has a number of prominent members: May Merrill Miller, Judge Annabelle Matthews, and Mrs. Ogden Campbell. 1927 was the date for the establishment of the Eta Delta chapter on this campus, and since that time has entered into the national's support of the Healthmobile, a child hygiene truck operating in the state of Georgia. Socially awake, the U.C.L.A. chapter gives two formal dances each school year in addition to a number of informal gatherings.

Begun on the campus of the University of Nebraska in 1910, Phi Omega Pi has as its ideal the promotion of friendship among women students and to aid its members in social and intellectual advancement. The local chapter, since its inception in 1925, has wholeheartedly entered to the organization's useful charity: the prevention of blindness among small children. Phi Omega Pi is proud of its exceptionally successful membership, for it claims such women as Olga Steig, Dr. Huberta M. Livingstone, and Dorothy Ayers Loudon. Leading the house through a well administered year, Betty Jane Curtis has been noted especially for the well run and attended Christmas and Spring formals.

At Monmouth College in 1867 Pi Beta Phi was founded, as one of the earliest women's college sororities. Pi Phi was also the first to establish alumnae clubs of which it now has 188. Besides being the leader in this function, the house has a claim to being first in starting an altruistic social project. To be expected are prominent members—women like Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, Carrie Chapman Cott, and Mrs. J. F. Balfour. Pi Beta Phi appeared at U.C.L.A. in 1927 with its California Delta chapter. Since that date the chapter has entered into the national's charities: the support of the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School in Gattlenburg, Tennessee, and the maintenance of fellowship funds and student loan funds. Socially alive the Pi Phis are known for the quality of their winter and spring formals.

Colby College of Waterville, Maine, was the scene for the first meeting of Alpha Omicron Pi in 1874. The founders of the sorority were the first five women ever to enroll in the college and for that reason banded together to form the bonds of fellowship that exist in the house until today. Establishing itself on this campus in 1925, the house initiated the Alpha Omicron chapter which was led for the past year by Margaret Chisholm. Carrying on the national's altruistic enterprise, the Maine Seacoast Mission, the local chapter has inaugurated an annual benefit dance to raise funds for its support. Also entering into the school's philanthropies, it actively aids the University Camp Fund by another annual dance. Leading the alumnae parade are Anne Stonebreaker, Mildred Struble, and Jessie Locke Moffet.

Theta Upsilon got its start at the University of California at Berkeley in 1914, and since that date a steady rate of growth has brought it to the present strength of 26 active chapters. Omicron chapter, initiated in 1927, has followed the ideals of the national in that it brings together girls who have principles in common. The national organization indulges itself philanthropically in aiding the support of Berea College, an institution for the benefit of underprivileged children in Kentucky. In the social field, Theta Upsilon has had a good record with Winter and Spring formals at the Grove and an Oriental Dance in the house. The chapter holds an annual Fathers' Banquet and semi-annual Parents' Dinners.

At Virginia State Normal, Farmville, Virginia, Zeta Tau Alpha was formed to fill a need for more sororities on southern campuses. In spreading to other parts of the country, the house came to the U.C.L.A. campus with the Beta Upsilon chapter in 1926. Nationally, the sorority engages in the philanthropic enterprise of supporting the Children Health Center at Currin Valley, Virginia. A list of leading feminine personalities belonging to the organization would include such well known names as Faith Baldwin, Judge Ellen K. Raedy, Ellen Hall, and Marion McMullan. The local chapter has been an active social factor on campus and among its especially well known events are the traditional benefit dance, an affair held in conjunction with the S.C. chapter; the Mardi Gras Ball in the fall of each year; and the annual White Violet Formal Dance.

Theta Phi Alpha was organized on the campus of University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan, in 1912 for the purpose of providing a Catholic environment for Catholic students at non-Catholic colleges and universities. Prominent women are prevalent on their rolls and a fair sample of them would be Anna Rose Kempel, Rose McKee Emerson, Dr. Ellen M. Geyer, and Dorothea Wagner. Here at U.C.L.A., Theta Phi Alpha absorbed the local sorority, Rho Mu Pi, in 1926 to become an active part of the campus life. Socially, the house, led by Esther Cooke, has especial pride in the success of its two semi-annual formal dances.

PHRATERES CABINET

Phrateres Cabinet is a coordinating body, which functions as a unifying group for the whole body of Phrateres as each individual dormitory has its own activities and programs. The cabinet plans activities for the group as a whole, and has about one activity a month. The membership of the cabinet is composed of the president of each dormitory, and the president of Philia. However, the officers of the group are selected by every member of Phrateres from the group as a whole, in other words the actual officers of the Cabinet may not be holding any other offices in their respective houses but are chosen at large from the entire membership of 600 women. The activities planned by the Cabinet include a tea in September to acquaint girls who are likely to become members. Later, there is a fireside party for new members from each dormitory. In November there is a barn dance, and in December a fashion tea at Bullock's Westwood. In February they have another tea, and in March two affairs: a fun house party and a formal dance at the Santa Monica Beach Club. And in May comes the installation banquet.

BANNISTER HALL

Margaret Lundahl
President

Since its construction in 1929, Bannister Hall has served as the campus headquarters for some fifty women each year. Providing social entertainment as well as living facilities, the hall engages in the presentation of open houses, informal dances, and casual gatherings around the open fireplace. A sub-chapter of Phrateres, the group lives up to its motto, "Famous for Friendliness", and enters into all Phrateres events.

Westwood Hall, formerly Doheny, first appeared as a women's living group in 1929 and was simultaneously installed as a sub-chapter of Phrateres. As active as any more closely knit organization, the sub-chapter enters into all Phrateres events putting especial emphasis on the aid given to campus charities. On the social side of the ledger was a complete set of events: winter and spring formal supper dances, a theatre party when the hall took over the Theatre Mart to see The Drunkard, and a long list of open houses, house dances, and teas. It has been said that the major problem of Westwood Hall is to get enough telephones in the building to accommodate the 100 women that live there.

Douglass Hall appeared on the U.C.L.A. campus in the same year as the university, 1929. In the hall, many of the school's prominent graduates have been members of the Douglass sub-chapter of Phrateres: women such as Ilse Huttner. Living in the hall now is Evelyn Boldrick, Southern California singles and doubles badminton champion. Entering into all-Phrateres social and charitable work, the hall also acts as a separate unit in such affairs. Among its most notable social events are the formal Christmas Tree Dinner and Party, the annual winter and spring formal dances, and the formal graduates' dinner. Besides these dances and parties, there are also various open houses and informal dances. In the ledger of aid to needy persons, Douglass contributed its part by holding a benefit for the University Camp.

Philia is a sub-chapter of Phrateres. Its purposes are to promote friendly relations among women on campus, and an opportunity to make more frequent contacts with their associates. Philia is a democratic organization, membership being open to any woman who lives at home or in a sorority house and who wishes to be a member of Phrateres. Many and varied are the activities of this organization. They start out in February with an Orientation tea to acquaint new women on campus with purposes and activities of Phrateres and its sub-chapters. This tea is followed by an Orientation dinner for those women who are interested in Philia alone. Prospective members must then pass an examination in the history of the chapter, after which there is a formal initiation dinner. On April 10 Philia gave a fashion show and tea. Other affairs include a sport dance with buffet supper, a Mother's tea, a dinner with the Cal Men, and a picnic.

It was in September of 1931 that the largest student residence at the University, Hershey Hall, was founded. In the length of time that Hershey has been at U.C.L.A., it has made its presence known to every student interested in the affairs of the University. Its social events—bi-monthly tea dances, the two formals, the informals, and the open house—have made campus history. The University Camp has received Hershey's enthusiastic support, and the Hall's special events make campus life more enjoyable for the 130 women who reside in it. Among the prominent alumnae of Hershey are such leaders as Ann Stewart Stockton, Mary Frances Hawkin, and Nancy McClish.

In late 1929, Dean Laughlin, realizing the inadequate housing facilities for women on the new campus, called on several persons to build halls for women. Responding to this suggestion, Dr. Neil Rudy had constructed in 1930 the hall which bears his name. In the ten years since its inception, Rudy Hall has had six presidents of all-Phrateres and other prominent women including Betty Haddock and Phyllis Culbert. Outstanding social events for the past year would be the two formal dances, an open house, and several date dances. To fill out the social program there are orientation parties and date dinners. Each year at Christmas, the hall presents a family with its needs for a big dinner and supplies necessary for a complete week in addition to making annual contributions to the University Camp.

In the fall of 1929, Winslow Arms was opened to help alleviate the need for more and better living quarters for women students. Named after its owner, Donald Winslow, the hall was installed as a sub-chapter of Alpha Chapter of Phrateres in the Fall of 1930. On its roster have been such prominent women as Catherine Sackstefer and Ruth Healy. As well as supporting all the social events sponsored by Phrateres, Winslow is, within itself, a social unit. A spring formal, an annual open house for parents, and a series of open houses are among the affairs. Other activities include financial aid to the support of the University Camp and assistance to orphaned French children via Madeleine Carroll.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

Julian Blodgett
President

The Interfraternity Council coasted through an eventless year without doing anything spectacular. Workhorse Scotty Miller was invaluable to President Julian Blodgett, serving as secretary, treasurer, and all-around trouble shooter. The council sponsored the annual Interfraternity Dance at the Beverly-Wilshire Hotel, where about 500 couples danced where there was room for 50. The only matter of importance to come up during the year was the $150 yearly assessment to be levied against each house for the financing of an Interfraternity Advisor. Although a large number of houses voiced strong objections, the position, to be filled by Clyde Johnson, an alumnus of Phi Kappa Sigma, appears to have been settled. The patron saint of the council, Dean of Men Hurford Stone, was present at all meetings and showed a great interest in the welfare of the fraternity group on campus.

"No North, no South, no East, no West; but one great nation, heaven blest," was the timely motto of Alpha Tau Omega, founded in 1865 at the close of the Civil War. With a flair for the picturesque, fifteen members of the local chapter were quarantined this year with scarlet fever. While thus jailed, the fifteen men made up a pool which was to go to the first one coming down with fever. But as nobody else was afflicted, the money taken in the pool was given to a kiddie's camp. On campus are Junior and Sophomore class treasurers, Dick Patton and Al Paquin. Famous national members list Dean Noble of U.C.L.A., and Governor Blanton Winship, Governor of Puerto Rico. This year, the A.T.O.s have had an Alumni Barn Dance, an exchange dance with the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity at S.C., and an annual basketball tournament with the A.T.O. chapter at Occidental.

The Alpha chapter of Alpha Gamma Omega was established on this campus in 1928. The organization now has a Beta chapter on the Berkeley campus and is making plans to go national in the near future. Alpha Gamma Omega was founded for the purpose of bringing together men interested in Christian activities. All the members are active in church and young people's work in their respective Protestant groups. Alumni members include Louis Perry, teaching assistant in the Economics Department on campus; Percy Crawford, President of King's College, Philadelphia; and Burton Goddard, Professor of Hebrew at Harvard University. Prominent undergraduate members are Bob Orr, All-Coast water polo goalie; and Ralph Hill, varsity track. The Alpha Gamma Omegas have an annual Founder's Day Banquet, and the organization also sponsors an annual snow party.

"We nearly shouted 'em down last time," say the Chi Phis, concerning the S.C.-U.C.L.A. grid fest last December. All this took place at the combined Christmas formal that the local chapter has with S.C. every year, the night of the S.C.-U.C.L.A. game, when the respective houses rehash the game, play by play. The Chi Phis also go Tyrolean once a year at a buffet-supper dance at their house, complete with Strauss waltzes, Bavarian polkas, and strains of "O Du Schone." Active in student organizations are the following Chi Phis: Bob Ward, President of the Y.M.C.A.; Milnor Gleaves, Associated Men Students Board member; and Robin Williams, varsity guard. Outstanding alumni of Chi Phi include Hiram Johnson, Senator from California; and the Right Reverend Frederick R. Graves, Bishop of Shanghai.

The first fraternity to build a house on campus, the local chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi was founded in 1926. At the fraternity now is an exchange student from the University of Florence, Fausto Ricci. From the local chapter, Jack Leggett is studying at the University of Rome. Prominent on campus are Bob Talley, concert pianist; Johnny Chapman, baritone; Joe Viger, quarterback; Monte Steadman, all-around athlete; and Jim Mitchell, awarded the trophy for the best scholarship and spirit on the football team. Distinguished alumni are Charles Kullman of the Metropolitan Opera; and George Marmaduke, governor of Missouri. Traditional for Bruin Alpha Sigs is the Black and White Dance to which members and their dates come dressed only in black and white. More famed is their Beach-comber Dance where everyone is costumed as a character from the Laughton picture, The Beach-comber.

Other social activities of the Betas include golfing, flying (two members are licensed pilots), and indulging in interfraternity athletics. The Betas point with pride to on-campus members Fred Koebig, President of the A.S.U.C., and Jim Stewart, Chairman of the Religious Conference. Four editors of college dailies on the Pacific Coast are members of Delta Chi. On our own campus we have Delta Chi Dick Pryne, editor of the Daily Bruin. Originally, the organization started as a professional legal fraternity, and although the house has no professional restrictions, the large number of legal alumni is notable. As alumni members, the house has Mayor Fletcher Bowron, and many of the superior court judges in Los Angeles. Members of the local chapter include Phi Beta Kappa Joe Oyster; and Rally Committeemen, Henry Keaton, and Harold Nygren. At the moment the Delta Chis are parking their cars in the street because they tore up their garage to make a pine-panelled rumpus room. This past semester, the chapter entertained its national president, Dean M. Thompson of the University of Illinois.

Theta Rho, the local chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon, was founded in February, 1932, in conformance with the established Deke policy of colonization. The charter members were obtained from the chapters at Berkeley and Stanford. Now a very prominent house on campus, the Dekes number among their members: Julian Blodgett, President of Interfraternity; Ned Breen, member of the Organizations Control Board; Bob Morton, Senior Football Manager; and Sandy Cameron, Basketball. Among alumni members are Babe Horrell, Theodore Roosevelt, J. P. Morgan, and Harold Janss. Social events include a Founder's Day Picnic at Point Magu, participation in the Four-Way Formal, as well as a traditional formal dance at Bel-Air. For a social event with a novel turn to its title, the Dekes have the "Last Supper," a stag affair, at the end of every Spring semester.

Nationally founded in 1899, the local chapter of Delta Sigma Phi came into existence in 1929. A traditional Delta Sigma Phi affair is their Carnation Ball given this year at the Beverly Wilshire. The Delta Sigs, because of their national informal ritual, are commonly known as sailors, so every year they have a Sailor Dance at the house which is decorated with movie props to represent a ship, replete with ship's wheels and a gang plank over which the guests enter. The fraternity takes to the sea once a year after Spring finals, for a yacht trip to Catalina. They also make an annual snow trip to a camp in Big Pines between semesters. Among Delta Sig alums are three successful musicians: Jan Garber, Hal Kemp, and Ted Weems. On the Bruin campus are Bruce Johnson and Fred Flo, members of Blue Key; and Business Manager of the Bruin, Boyd Harris.

With enough crewmen in the house to make a full boatload, Phi Kappa Sigma also includes a varsity hockey star, Jim McPhee, among its members. Claude Swanson and the DuPonts are among prominent alumni. Socially active, the Phi Kaps traditionally give date dinners before the night football games, as well as frequent date luncheons throughout the year. A Skull Dance at which the guests come costumed as someone from the past is an annual tradition of the Phi Kaps, as a skull is one of the emblems on their crest. Other Phi Kappa Sigma activities include a Hawaiian Dance, and a Founder's Day Banquet, as well as a Christmas Stag and an Alumni Stag, at which the feature of the day is a baseball game between alumni and actives. At Christmas, the Phi Kaps play Santa Claus to a group of underprivileged boys.

Originally organized for the purpose of bringing eight close friends together, Delta Tau Delta has considerably expanded since it was founded in 1858. The U.C.L.A. chapter went national in 1926. Among prominent on-campus members we find Del Lyman, football; Vic Miller and Bill Kugler, senior basketball; Harley Merritt, varsity tennis; and Whitey Knutson, President of Scabbard and Blade. Prominent national members are Henry Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture; Nelson Johnson, Ambassador to China; Irving J. Reuter, Governor of Colorado; and Pinky Tomlin, song writer and band leader. The outstanding social event hosted by the Delts is the Bowery Dance. On this occasion the house is turned into an extravagant bowery scene with the aid of studio props. The top formal event is the Delta Tau Delta-Delta Gamma Ball, held annually in the Biltmore Blueroom.

The second largest yacht in the world carried a crowd of carefree Kappa Sigs out Santa Barbara way one weekend last term, then turned around and brought them back again. Outstanding social events were the Tri-chapter dance and the annual masquerade. The Kappa Sigma Mother's Club recently presented the local house with a large pool table. Besides playing pool the boys amuse themselves by projecting amateur movies on a screen in their projection room. Every other Friday night finds the boys gathered in the house for an informal get-together. Prominent active members are Bill Overlin, Ed Law, and Bob Maynard. National alumni include Lowell Thomas, composer Hoagy Carmichael, Bill Spaulding, and the national Commander of the American Legion, Stephen Chadwick.

As the only non-secret fraternity, the Delta Upsilon have become very prominent, and were one of the first national fraternities to establish themselves on this campus. The D.U.s have become noted for their annual "Bad Taste" dance, to which everyone comes garbed in the worst clothes combination possible. The D.U.s describe the decorations for the affair to be in "extremely poor taste." Prominent members on campus include Stan Reel, Cashier of the A.S.U.C.; Fred McPherson, Chairman of the Rally Committee; and Johnny Vrba, Head Yell Leader. Nationally prominent members are Charles Evans Hughes, John Erskine, and Charles G. Dawes. Currently, the D.U.s are occupied with plans for a new house on Gayley, and they describe their philanthropy as "paying a $61 water bill for a neighboring fraternity."

Kappa Alpha was established on the campus of Washington and Lee University in 1865, and was inspired by Robert E. Lee who had just been elected president of the university. It was originally a social engineering fraternity, but later professional restrictions were removed. Among prominent alumni members we find Richard E. Byrd, J. Edgar Hoover, Randolph Scott, and Munro Leaf. The local Kappa Alpha's are represented in sports with Don McPherson, co-captain of the football team, and Scott Miller, captain of the ice hockey team. The fraternity also has Norm Padgett, president of Men Students, and Earl Hanson, cadet colonel of the R.O.T.C. Traditional for all chapters of Kappa Alpha are the Lee Banquet and the Dixie Ball. The first honors the birthday of Robert E. Lee, and it was at this banquet that Linda Darnell was made the official sweetheart of the fraternity.

Last fall, amazed citizens of San Francisco saw a caravan of ten motor glides bearing an equal number of Lambda Chi Alphas invade their city for their national convention there. The hardy ten made the 500-mile trip in a record breaking 18 hours. The Lambda Chis social calendar has been travelled through at much the same rate. Social events included the following: Pledge dance; Pre-S.C. game dance; Parent's luncheon and football party at Santa Clara game, parents' dinner, alumni dinner, initiation banquet, Founder's Day banquet, and a Spring formal. Interested in scholarship, Lambda Chis maintain an endowment fund to aid deserving students, and have won the interfraternity scholarship both semesters of the 1939 school year. Prominent Lambda Chis include Cecil Dye, and Don Ewing. Alumni members are Micky Cochran and Leroy Prinz.

The first and most original local fraternity present was that of Tau Delta Phi, at which the pledges were presented wearing ragged dress suits and carrot corsages. Social highlights for the fraternity included the ultra-formal pledge dance at Earl Carroll's, and the traditional Blue and White dance at the Victor Hugo—men wearing blue, their dates in white. In the way of informal affairs the Tau Delts feature a fall masquerade and a Hard Time dance. Musicales are an important feature of this fraternity which is noted for its large collection of recordings, both classical and popular; and at informal discussions every Sixth Sunday night members of the faculty are invited for bull sessions. Sandy Mock, Assistant Editor of the Bruin, is a Tau Delta Phi, and prominent alumni members include David Sarnoff, head of R.C.A.; and Irving Rapper, Warner Brothers director.

Remove the Delta and add in its place Kappa, and you won't be far wrong in determining the scholastic achievement of the enterprising gentlemen of Phi Beta Delta fraternity. The house has two members who have maintained straight A's during the past year. Prominent members are Milt Cohen, sports editor of the Bruin; Benny Kvitky, grid star; and George Goldman, stunt chairman. At their November Dance, life was a circus for the Phi Beta Deltas, who had their living room decorated as a tent and containing full carnival regalia. Spooky memories are all that remain of the New Year's Eve affair, which had for its motif elements of the supernatural. A series of Friday night Radio Dances and Stags provided the needed escape from the swirl of formality. Prominent alumni members of the fraternity are Louis B. Mayer, Rabbi Magnin, and the Honorable Joseph A. Shapiro.

The Phi Gamma Deltas, better known as the Fijis, are proud to announce that they are living in a new house this year. In the library of the house is a Fiji mural which was done by one of the boys, Edgar Twomey. Another affair in keeping with the Phi Gamma Delta nickname is the Fiji Island Dance, a grass skirt affair. Every other Friday night the fellows get together for informal bull sessions if somebody furnishes the refreshments. The house claims exclusive rights on a catalogue which is maintained for the private use of actives and pledges. This catalogue has most complete and up-to-date biographies—past, present, and future possibilities—of the women on the row. National alumni include Alf Landon, Calvin Coolidge, Lloyd Douglas, and Newton D. Baker. On campus are Hank McCune of All-U Sing fame; and Bill Mitchell, All-Coast Water Polo player.

Phi Delta Theta lays claim to more Rhodes Scholars from the national organization than any other social fraternity. About scholarship, the Phi Deltas have nothing more to say. However, when it comes to social events the local fraternity is right up among 'em. They participate in the Four-Way Formal, and in the Miami Triad, as well as have a Spring formal, and Hogwallows after finals, which affairs are just what the name implies. Prominent members of the local fraternity are Jimmy Devere, member of the Organizations Control Board; Bob Hoag, editor of the Claw, and according to the Bruin last semester, the man of the month; also, the house has Bob Simpson, football player; and Gale Stafford, Senior Council member. Prominent alumni are Lou Gehrig, Harold Ickes, Justice James C. McReynolds, and Benjamin Harrison.

Before the U.C.L.A. chapter of Sigma Nu went national in 1930, the local chapter was Alpha Delta Tau, and because of this the members were known as "awful damn tramps." In lieu of this, once a year, the Sigma Nus have a traditional Tramp Dance. In addition to this headline social event, there are Christmas and Spring Formals, as well as an exchange dance with the S.C. chapter of Sigma Nu. A Tudor English style house is being built by the local fraternity, groundbreaking for which took place in February with Provost Hedrick officiating. Founded on the campus of the Virginia Military Academy, the house is noted for its military background. This type of activity is encouraged, and a high percentage of Sigma Nus are members of Scabbard and Blade. In keeping with this policy it seems natural to find Major Norris, head of the Coast Artillery at U.C.L.A. an alumnus.

Phi Kappa Psi was founded in 1852 at Jefferson College. Both nationally and locally the fraternity attempts to maintain a balance among all classes of university life by taking an active interest in scholastic, political, and athletic activities. The fraternity is proud to name Woodrow Wilson among its prominent alumni. Outstanding members of the local chapter including John Cole, President of the Senior Class, and Bob Alshuler, President of the Sophomore Class. Holding to a tradition, the new pledges were presented to the campus the year, which fact greatly surprised all the Hilgard lasses who thought they had a monopoly on this activity. Naturally they thought the whole idea was pretty chintzy. They also hold several dances during the year.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, the largest national fraternity, tests its seaworthiness once a year when it has a ship theme masquerade. However, the tradition of the sea is violated somewhat on this occasion, for the boys pick up their dates in hay wagons. Once a year the S.A.E.'s literally take to the sea in the "Mariner," a 106-foot Gloucester schooner, for a trip to the Catalina Isthmus, which affair the boys describe as "pretty sharp." Members of S.A.E. include Frank Carroll, on the Athletic Board and Student Council; Carter Crall, Vice-President of Interfraternity Council; and Tom Freear, Southern Campus Manager. Prominent alumni are William Bankhead, Rudy Vallee (who incidentally came with his whole company to the S.A.E. Tri-Chapter Dance), and Bobby Jones. In the fall the S.A.E.'s will be living in a much publicized new house on Gayley.

Formerly Sigma Chi Delta, Sigma Alpha Mu went national in 1926. Highlight social affair is an all day siege held at a local country club. Alumni and undergraduates compete in various sports with the winner of the baseball game receiving the traditional trophy, an ancient and battered cocktail shaker. A dinner dance climaxes the evening. Prominent on campus are Al Hoffman, 145 pound former Golden Gloves champion; Al Adelman and Eugene Shapiro, Rally Committeemen; and Herbert Ruben, president of the Jewish Council. The house has had several bull sessions this year with faculty members Davis, in Psychology, and Hultzen of the English Department, present. Outstanding national members are Harry Joe Brown, film producer; Professor T. Erin Levy, Secretary of the Circuit Court of Appeals and Professor of Law at Syracuse University.

Alexander Woolcott, "The Man Who Came to Dinner;" Frank Buck; and John Hay, Lincoln's Secretary of State, form part of an impressive list of former members. The fraternity is famous for its annual spring Barn Dance, given the last week in March, with the house transformed into a barn, complete with hayricks and a Hill Billy trio. Also, this year, a formal dinner dance was given at the Beverly Hills Hotel in honor of Burton King, head of the International House at Berkeley, and president of the national fraternity. Bruin Theta Deltis include Ray Gillette, President of the Junior Class; Mason Flowers, Camp Fund Committee; Hank Eddie, water polo; and Dryden Davenport, varsity crew.

The national chapter of Sigma Pi came into existence on the campus of the University of Vincennes just before the outbreak of the Spanish-American War. The local chapter went national in 1924. Sigma Pi's are noted for their costume dances which attract novelties in dress from the four corners of the campus. The most famous of these affairs is the "Nut Club Dance". Among prominent alumni members we find the late Marvin Darsie; Gene Krupa, band leader; and Donald Collins, Bruin team physician. The fraternity is well represented on campus, having members on the freshman, sophomore, and junior councils. Prominent members of Sigma Pi are Robert Thomas, 135 pound Pacific Coast Wrestling Champion, and Charles "Muddy" Watters, ski team. Sigma Pi has held the senior football managership consecutively with one exception, since 1929.

Originally a local chapter of De Molay, the organization became affiliated with the national chapter of Theta Chi. Outstanding members on this campus find two journalists, Bruce Cassiday, managing editor of the Bruin; and Frank Simons, editor of the Southern Campus. As for social events the Theta Chis have the eternal Spring and Christmas formals, but be it not said that they do nothing original, for they had this past semester a Kid Party. For this party, the house was decked out as a nursery, complete with almost everything in the way of equipment. Along the wall hung diapers, and on each diaper there was a picture of a member of the house. Described as a big affair by everyone who attended was the Theta Chi barn dance given in February. Outstanding national alumni include Governor T. Christianson, and General William T. Sherman.

Zeta Psi was the first national fraternity on this campus. When it comes to strong organization, the house is noted for its philosophy of laissez-faire. Prominent members of Zeta Psi on this campus are mostly active in athletics, as for instance, John Frawley, Co-Captain of the 1939 football team; Paul Crawley, captain of the championship water-polo team; Devere Christensen, outstanding swimmer in school; and Jack Sommers, football guard. Socially active, the Zeta Psis are participants in the Four-Way formal, have monthly house dances called Hogwallows, numerous exchange breakfasts and dinners, suppressed costume dances, and snow trips. Prominent alumni are well represented in the following: Joe E. The Venice Fun House is taken over bodily by a group of active Zeta Beta Taus for their annual pledge affair. Other Z.B.T. social activities include an initiation dance at Earl Carroll's, and a mammoth barn dance given jointly with their U.S.C. chapter. During the past year the Zeta Beta Taus have contributed funds to bring a refugee couple over from Germany. Among their national alumni, Zeta Beta Tau numbers such well-known figures as Supreme Court Justices Felix Frankfurter, and Benjamin Cardozo, as well as Henry Horner, Governor of the State of Illinois. On the Bruin campus, the Z.B.T.s have active members Wolfe Gilbert, Daily Bruin columnist and member of the Organization's Control Board; Sam Grudin, member of the Senior Council; and Bennet Sprecher, O.C.B. member and assistant homecoming chairman.

Group-of-the-month for September was the Music and Service Board, the stellar membership of which is seen above. These two cute kiddies combined to put on a slam-bang radio show for the T.C.U. game and started the entertainment year off in fine style. Hank McCune is grimacing in a ghoulish manner (like a master of ceremonies) while Johnny Vrba may be trying to make a flea flee. Note the loving manner in which they clasp each other. In spite of their coyness, they really did a lot.

Undoubtedly the outstanding person of March was this handsome devil. Dirty, unshaven, smelly, and ugly, Spike Honig guided the trembling feet of the school's men through the agony of another Men's Week with singular success, and had as many friends at the end as at the beginning, which doesn't prove anything. In spite of some very cute interference by the football team, Honig conducted the Kangaroo Court with dignity befitting the bar (?). Men's Week was really swell, though, Spike.

Editor's note: Because of lack of room in other parts of the book, recognition of the above groups and persons was deferred until this page. We feel that the work they did deserves special recognition anyway, so we here present several "Personalities of the Month" for your approval.

THESE ALSO SERVED

In October Jim Devere began work on the annual Alumni Homecoming, thus receiving the title of personality of the month. Homecoming was a notable success, so he followed up this achievement by being chosen Colonel of the R.O.T.C., a natural stepping-stone to the office of Student Body President, into which he gracefully slid by a substantial margin on April 24. Best of luck with your new job, Jimmy.

We understand the only time that the whole Elections Board got together at the same time was when this picture was taken. Nevertheless, Muriel Van Patten and her board handled Election Week in satisfactory manner and so receive our gun-fallon for April. The board inaugurated the style of using nicknames, if desired, on the ballot, but it didn't do "The Lunatic" any good. Voting machines cut the group's work down to even less than before, which nobody yelled about.

Dear Gang:

The office is quiet tonight as the ad section goes to press. Tomorrow work on the 1940 Southern Campus will cease, our fun and worries will end and we will realize that finals are but two short weeks away. To all of you who have so loyally aided in the management of this book, I am deeply grateful.

To Jo, loyal friend and willing worker, many thanks. To Gay, Frank, Leslie Ann, Bill, and Ed belongs the Ad section, it's swell. For many letters and odd jobs, orchids to Lorraine, Peggy and Georgie. Sally Norton, for her art work on the "Friends" page, has earned my undying love.

Tillie, patient creature, if I've worried you, I'm sorry.

To Frank Stanton Simons, Jr., for your imperious interest in our section and for your most sincere cooperation, may you reap as you have so nobly sown.

Best of luck to Tom and Steve next year.

Bob.

- 10—The concert line in the concert arena tonight is a record. Carl and Donald Dick win share honors.
- 11—The Bruin basketball team makes a bow in the annual Bruin A.W.S. game.
- 12—A new time again.
- 13—Wick has given an enjoyable reading of "The White Horse." (10)
- 14—Miss Alice Madam is elected by the Council to succeed Dick as the O.C.B. Chairman.
- 15—Exhibition time drew a real turn out when Alice Marble and Wally Van Horn appeared in the men's gym. Compulsory R.O.T.C. remains a reality.
- 16—All the local skaters turned out at the Lakehorne skating rink.
- 17—The first league baseball game with Cal was called off in a near riot.

- 13—The council is in a rejecting mood again. This time the concert levy gets the gong.
- 18—Baseball: Broncos 5—U.C.L.A. 1.
- 19—Dorothy Dodge becomes Queen of the Crew.
- 20—"Of Thee I Sing" makes its debut.
- 21—The crew started off with its best foot forward and gave the Beavers a trimming.
- 25—The Whiskers grow berserk, dirty cords become dirtier, and the males in general have a high old time. Yep, it's Men's Week.
- Count and Countess Thornrider present the chimes to the university. The chimes are rung for the first time to open the Charter Day exercises celebrating the 72nd anniversary of the school. President Conant of Harvard speaks.

EDITORIAL STAFF

The tumult and the shouting has died, the captains and the kings have departed, and all that's left is a feeling of relief tinged with melancholia. The office is too clean, the typewriters are too quiet, there are no deadlines to meet, no staff to growl at, no service men on my neck. It's all rather unreal, after seven months of work and play. I guess everyone is glad that Volume XXI is finished. Jimmy Osgood's last piece of copy is in, though he never thought it would be. He wrote and read copy for everything, and proved to be efficiency plus. Thanks a lot, Jim. And copy No. 545 has gone down, so Steve Melnyk can relax again. His careful work on engraving copy was invaluable, so thanks, Steve. When I come to Hap Fraser, there is nothing I can say that the book doesn't say for me. The layouts, divisions, and cover are his work, and it was a one man job. Without good pictures, engraving can do but little, and Bill Johnke's pictures are superlative. 95% of the photography was his work. Bill believed that the easiest way to get a thing done is to do it yourself, and he did. Barbara Bettin took over the grind of organizations, organized a tremendous staff which pasted 4000 pictures, wrote 16,000 names, used up reams of paper and 2 gallons of paste. When we come to book editors, credit must be given to all, but I want to commend especially Betty Beal (no Jane, as she is a big girl now) for her hard, conscientious work. Ricky was amazing because she was in practically every other activity on campus and still had time to edit the Activities Book. Hanford Files handled the sports like a veteran, and amassed quite a staff. Marge Frank was the general utility girl, editing the Classes Book and writing odds and ends, including the calendar. With some timely help from Virginia Scott and Jack Gilchrist, Beth Anne Stevens got the Social section out. Billie Thomas handled the Women's section with finesse and Russell Simpson, working on the book for the first time, did a fine job with minor sports. DeForest Fisher buried his nose in hypo and turned out dozens of good enlargements. I also wish to express my appreciation for their cooperation to John Morley of Carl Bundy's; to Al Butterworth of Star Engraving; to Joseph Fleischer of Henderson's Trade Binders; and to Tom Meek of Robert Dale Binders. Your work was excellent at all times. To the rest of the staff, however much or little you did, or however important or unimportant it was, thanks a million. I hope none of you will ever forget working on the book—I know I won't. Thanks to all of you again.

M A N A G E R I A L S T A F F

This is the end of our work—the 21st book is finished and sold and has become of age. The office is closed and yet we have not received the first completed copy of the 1940 Southern Campus. During this lull I want to thank the staff. Bob Meldrum, Mary Jo Funk, Alma Stewart, and Lorraine Hofmann worked brilliantly to produce a staff that planned wisely, moved fast, hit hard, and in its time, coasted with the rest.

Alma Stewart managed a Sales Drive that had every book sold two weeks before they were off the presses and so made the best sales record in years. Bob Meldrum handled Organizations and ended up with a new high of organizations represented in the book and an appeased Inter-fraternity Council supporting his new policy. He then turned to Advertising to provide the best section in the Book's twenty-one years. Mary Jo Funk sold Senior Reservations and amazed everyone with her all-time high of seniors represented. Lorraine Hofmann with a closely organized staff kept office work turned out faster than it could be assigned.

I especially liked Bob's trouble-shooting on unpleasant assignments; Mary Jo's devotion to "U.C.L.A.'s best activity"; Alma's strategy of winning her last sales battle; and Lorraine's search for more work for her staff. Of the many others without whose work the book could not have been completed, I can mention only a few: Joe Jacobucci, Anne Brown, Barbara Black, Betty Scott, Georgie Randle, and Peggy Jane Brown.

Mr. Joe Osherenko deserves my best for giving advice and assistance without attempting to dictate decisions. Alice Tilden has acted wonderfully as the Southern Campus's sub-rosa Public Relations Director and Efficiency Expert. I hope Alice from her listening post hears my three cheers for her.

For the Managerial Staff I want to tell Bill Simons that we have enjoyed working with his crew—we hope and know that the 1940 Southern Campus is going to be the best in history.
